⚠ PSA: SunnySidePup | Scamming, Manipulation

Posted 6 months, 23 days ago () (Edited 6 months, 23 days ago ()) by Dossier

This account is not owned by any single individual, nor does it have a sole contributor or main owner. It exists solely to share a Public Service Announcement (PSA) compiled from the experiences of multiple individuals.

This PSA was originally posted by ★ Kyberr. However, due to the nature of this document, the number of affected individuals, and the trauma surrounding the situation, she no longer wishes to be associated with or affiliated with it and refuses to contribute further (Unless any other information regarding her situation arises). The same applies to all others who have shared their testimonies and evidence. There are still other testimonies and accounts that have not been posted.

This PSA exists solely to inform the public. It is not intended to incite harassment or direct any form of contact toward anyone involved. No one— including Kyberr (The original poster of this PSA), the individuals who have shared their experiences, or Sunny and her affiliates— wants to be contacted regarding this matter. Please respect these boundaries and refrain from reaching out to anyone mentioned in this document.

Any and all new receipts, sections, testimonies, and screenshots will now be highlighted in green!
A new testimony (Seraph's Testimony) has been added. Note that there are still multiple testimonies being compiled.

Major Update March 20th, 2025 2:49 AM PST: All relevant screenshots have now been included directly in this forum post via spoilers - for ease of access. No external links to platforms such as Google Docs, Imgur, etc., have been added. I have thoroughly refined and updated the content to ensure clarity and comprehensiveness.

The TL;DR section can be found at the very end of this document. It provides a summary of all instances of Sunny's misconduct, along with a brief overview of each testimony in which the misconduct occurred. I acknowledge that this document is extensive—though that was not the original intention—and I sincerely appreciate everyone who has taken the time to read through it.

Legal Disclaimer & Right to Share Information

This account is not owned by any single individual, nor does it have a sole contributor. It exists solely to share a Public Service Announcement (PSA) compiled from the experiences of multiple individuals.

⚠️ DO NOT HARASS, CONTACT, THREATEN, OR ATTEMPT TO INTERACT WITH ANY INDIVIDUALS MENTIONED IN THE PSA. ⚠️

Nobody involved in the PSA wishes to be contacted regarding this matter. This includes the individual as well as the affiliates of said individual the PSA is regarding. This account exists only to document and share past experiences—not to encourage harassment, retaliation, or further involvement. Any form of harassment, threats, doxxing, stalking, or targeted actions against anyone mentioned is strictly condemned and may result in legal consequences.

Individual Responsibility for Statements & Evidence

Each individual who has contributed their experiences to the PSA is fully responsible for their own statements and the evidence they provide. No one person is responsible for the statements of another, nor can anyone be held liable for testimonies shared by others.

If a claim of defamation is made, legal action may only be taken against the specific individual who provided the testimony in question. This means:

- Each person owns their own words and evidence.
- Nobody else in this group, nor the account itself, is responsible for the statements of others.

- No individual can be held accountable for another person's experiences or statements.

Any legal claim alleging defamation must identify the specific individual responsible for the statement in question. You cannot hold the entire group, nor this account, liable for individual testimonies.

Our Legal Right to Share The PSA

We have the legal right to share our personal experiences and testimonies under well-established principles of free speech, fair reporting, and consumer protection across multiple jurisdictions. All information posted is backed by firsthand experiences and evidence. We do not post unverified claims.

Legal Protections Supporting Our Right to Share Information:

✅ First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution (USA) – Protects freedom of speech, including personal experiences, opinions, and factual statements. As long as statements are truthful and not defamatory, they are legally protected.

✅ Consumer Review Fairness Act (CRFA) (USA, 2016) – Makes it illegal for businesses or individuals to retaliate against people for sharing honest reviews or personal experiences. A cease-and-desist letter cannot override this federal protection.

✅ Anti-SLAPP Laws (USA, varies by state/country) – Protect against frivolous lawsuits (Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation) intended to silence critics. If legal action is taken against the PSA in bad faith, anti-SLAPP protections may apply.

✅ Defamation Laws (Libel & Slander) – Truth is an absolute defense against defamation. As long as statements made are truthful and backed by evidence, they do not qualify as defamation. If someone attempts to claim defamation, they bear the burden of proving that statements are both false and damaging, which they cannot do if the statements are true.

✅ The Right to Share Publicly Available Information – If any part of the PSA references publicly available records, statements, or past actions, those references are legally protected under public interest reporting.

Legal Protections in the EU and Australia:

✅ European Union (EU) - General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) – While the GDPR regulates personal data, it does not prevent individuals from sharing factual, personal experiences about publicly available actions, events, or businesses, especially when those experiences are not defamatory or violating privacy laws. Freedom of expression is guaranteed under Article 11 of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.

✅ European Union (EU) - The Right to Freedom of Expression and Information – The EU guarantees individuals the right to express their experiences and opinions, especially when it involves consumer protection or public safety. Truthful statements made in good faith are protected under EU laws.

✅ Australian Law - Freedom of Speech – Australian law permits freedom of expression, including the right to share experiences and opinions, especially when discussing issues of public interest. Any defamatory claim must meet high standards of proof, and the truth is an absolute defense against defamation claims.

✅ Australian Consumer Law (ACL) – Under the ACL, individuals are protected when sharing honest consumer experiences. This includes freedom to share experiences about services or businesses without fear of retaliation as long as statements are truthful and backed by evidence.

Addressing Harassment Claims and Retaliation

We understand the concern about potential legal action for harassment. However, we are fully protected under the law for sharing truthful experiences and information, and we will defend ourselves in any legal dispute related to harassment or retaliation.

If a claim of harassment is made, we want to clarify:

- Harassment laws are very specific, and sharing experiences, opinions, and publicly available information does not constitute harassment under any legal jurisdiction.
- Harassment claims require the accuser to prove repeated, intentional actions designed to harm or intimidate. Simply posting factual information or expressing opinions cannot be considered harassment if no intimidation or harm is intended.
- We will provide evidence showing that our intentions are solely to inform, share experiences, and raise awareness, not to harm or intimidate anyone.

Any attempt to sue for harassment would be without merit, as this account is sharing truthful, evidence-supported experiences in good faith. We will seek legal counsel if necessary to defend against such claims, and we will invoke anti-SLAPP protections (if applicable) to prevent the misuse of legal threats to silence our right to speak.

Final Statement

By engaging with this account, you acknowledge:

1. We have the right to share our experiences under multiple legal protections in the USA, EU, and Australia.
2. We will not remove factual statements due to intimidation or bad-faith legal threats.
3. Each individual contributor is responsible for their own statements and evidence. No one person, nor this account as a whole, is responsible for the words of others.
4. The PSA is for informational purposes only—it is not an invitation for harassment or harm against anyone mentioned.

Any attempts to silence the PSA through intimidation, harassment, or legal threats will be recognized as retaliatory and addressed accordingly.

I encourage readers to form their own opinion and refrain from engaging in harmful or retaliatory actions. Any legal inquiries regarding this document should be directed to a licensed attorney.

Introduction

This PSA serves as a warning regarding SunnySidePup's dishonest and harmful behaviors presented across multiple platforms, including Toyhouse, Discord, Facebook, and more. She has engaged in various forms of misconduct, including but not limited to: scamming regarding a $1000 USD transaction, emotional manipulation, violating terms of service agreements, and inflating the value of designs to mislead buyers. Additionally, she had claims to be on the brink of homelessness as an excuse for not fulfilling her obligations to others, while simultaneously spending hundreds of dollars on art, OCs, plushies, and fursuits within the same few months. Furthermore, she has been known to use screenshots out of context to alter reality and spread lies about others.

Multiple individuals have come forward to me with their experiences after I posted this PSA, and I am currently compiling these accounts into an official document - they will be uploaded here on this PSA as well for those who do not want to read a google document. This PSA provides a concise overview of the situation, but for those seeking the full context and receipts, I will include a Google Document with all evidence and testimonies. I understand that some may find Google Docs difficult to navigate or prefer a more accessible format, so I will also provide all relevant information here. The Google Document will remain available for those who wish to review the full context in greater detail.

Please note: While I am making this information public, I want to make it absolutely clear—do not harass or witch-hunt Sunny or any of the individuals involved. Do not engage in any form of attacking or targeting anyone. This PSA is intended solely to inform and protect others, not to incite harm. Harassment, witch-hunting, or any form of retaliation is not acceptable and will not be tolerated.

⚠️ NOTICE AND MY STATEMENT ON DOXXING:

We want to be extremely clear. If any attempts are made to doxx me or anyone else, we will take immediate legal action,as doxxing is illegal.
This could involve pursuing civil or criminal charges, such as filing a lawsuit for harassment or invasion of privacy, and potentially involving law enforcement if it crosses into cyberstalking.

However, we will not stoop to that level, nor do we condone harassment of any kind. The information shared here is for transparency and accountability, and is not intended as doxxing. It does not include private, sensitive details like addresses or phone numbers, and mentions of usernames or other identifiers are necessary for context. Her name may be listed, as it is publicly available on her Facebook in which she is very open about being SunnySidePup on that platform and said name is used in transactions. We will make every effort to censor unnecessary identifiers while ensuring clarity and accuracy. This documentation is meant to provide a full understanding of the situation, not to violate privacy or encourage harassment.

Doxxing is the act of publicly revealing or publishing private, personal information about an individual without their consent, typically with the intent to harm, intimidate, or harass them. This includes sensitive details such as home addresses, phone numbers, financial information, and other personal identifiers not previously made public.

Sharing a public name is not considered doxxing, especially when that name is already publicly available. In this case, Sunny's Facebook name is public, and she is very open about her identity on that platform. Her Facebook page includes her sonas and OCs, and she regularly posts "bewares" and engages with the art and OC community. She buys art and OCs through Facebook and is active in the community there. Additionally, she openly identifies as "SunnySidePup" on Facebook, and her SunnySidePup Carrd is linked to her profile, with a direct link to her Toyhouse and other social medias. Therefore, sharing this publicly available name and information is not doxxing, as it is already part of her public online presence.

I refuse to stay silent, especially when many others have an experience with her.

Summary of SunnySidePup's Misconduct

Below, we have provided receipts and screenshots that highlight my experience, organized into sections for clarity (2021, 2022, and 2024-2025/Present, respectively).
We also included the year(s) when the misconduct below occurred, just in case your primary focus is on the scamming or related issues.
We understand there is a lot of information to review, but we made sure everything is labeled for easy reference.

1. Scamming & False Advertising (Discussed in 2024-2025/ Present Section, Kyberr + Seraph's Testimony)

2. Emotional Manipulation & Abuse Tactics (Discussed throughout all sections, 2021-2025, Kyberr + Seraph's Testimony)

3. Financial Dishonesty (Discussed in 2024-2025 Section of Kyberr's Testimony)

4. Violation of Personal & Design T.O.S. (Discussed throughout all sections, 2021-2025 of Kyberr's Testimony, Seraph's Testimony)

5. Slander & Misrepresentation of Facts (Discussed in the 2024-2025/Present Section of Kyberr's Testimony)

TESTIMONIES

Some individuals who have submitted testimonies have chosen to remain anonymous to protect their safety and well-being. This decision may stem from concerns about harassment, retaliation, or other personal reasons. It is essential to respect their privacy and refrain from attempting to identify, contact, or pressure them in any way.

Every person has the right to share their experiences without fear of consequences, and anonymity allows them to do so without risking harm. Any attempts to expose, doxx, or intimidate anonymous contributors will be considered a violation of their privacy and will not be tolerated under any circumstances.

To prevent this document from becoming excessively large, all testimonies will have their supporting evidence (receipts) included in a spoiler section. Please be mindful of the spoiler warnings and proceed accordingly.

Before proceeding, please note the following proof of Sunny's current Discord account, which is titled "Placeholder." This is relevant as many of the receipts include communication from this account. Additionally, while the account's pronouns are listed as "it/its," Sunny identifies with both "she/it" pronouns.

Seraph's Testimony, with Receipts

This is an anonymous testimony. Below is the statement submitted to me in their own words, detailing their personal experience with consent.

I knew sunny since 2021 and recently came back into contact with her, we met due to a mutual friend we had and our first interaction was sunny pming me trying to pressure me to give her one of my forever homed mascots which was designed by said mutual friend.
We were not close back then, in fact i got into drama with her because i called out our mutual friend for scamming, abusing their ex and stealing characters (ironic) and sunny sided with them, and they both ran away after being called out.
When Sunny ran off with our mutual friend, who i will call "M" for the sake of simplicity, they took M's exes' ocs along with them, and held them hostage from them. I will call M's ex "Y" for simplicity also
Y had trusted M with all of their childhood ocs, as M had pressured them to trade them by drawing them 24/7 and talking about how much he wanted those ocs, all of them ended up in sunny's hands, and she was to this day holding them over my head and holding them hostage knowing they had essentailly been stolen from an abuse victim.
I am friends with Y, and wanted to retrieve their characters. They entrusted upon me a lot of their old ocs, and said they'd like me to have the others too, so i wanted to make things right. Sunny however, used this to scam me out of my own childhood ocs.

Sunny kept putting Y's old ocs up for offers and saying she would give them to "anyone who wanted them" so i panickingly offered several times, and was promised i would get these characters back finally.
This did not happen.
Instead, Sunny kept all the ocs i had sent her in a panic, and kept telling me she would give me the ocs i was owed when she finished "a list" of characters to transfer. She then told me she had lost this list, or deleted it, etc. A whole lot of nonsense excuses that clearly did not hold true because why would you need a list to send ocs that were already on a folder for you.

Because i hadn't received was i was owed, i told sunny to keep my characters on hold in a temporary folder or return them to me. Neither of these things were done. Sunny started "putting them in stories" according to her, and making base edits of my characters without my consent. When i asked her to retrieve my ocs after months of being ghosted and lied to, she used excuses that she had gotten "attached".
But not even a week later she put my characters up for offers. Not only were they up for offers, some of them were pending to random people, and some were actually traded to her friends. All of this happened behind my back. These characters were supposedly trade backs also.
While this was happening, Sunny kept making more trade promises to me, and trading with other people, along with buying increasingly expensive characters, all while boasting to me about them but still not giving me what i was owed or my characters back.

She was also extremely disrespectful of my boundaries when it came to these characters, i warned her that some of them were used to groom me, and she acted understanding but began pressuring me to give her more of the ocs that were used to groom me, and to give her one of my groomer's ocs that i had deleted. I told her i did not want to do this and she didn't stop insisting.
I also told her directly to stop watermarking my art especially if it included my ocs, this is something on my TOS which she claimed she read, and not only was i ignored the first time i brought this up to her, but when she actually aknowledged it she did not change anything and in fact watermarked more images. Including my groomer's art.

This was already bad enough, but then i found out she had been getting close with my friends all of which were minors. Two were 16, one was 15. She did this to get ocs from them, and according to these minors in question she befriended them quickly and managed to also hold their previous sonas over their head. This was odd enough by itself but knowing what i know now i feel absolutely horrid that i even let her near those minors.
She generally went against TOS a lot, of several artists, including mic. She pressured me to separate a character for her so she'd finally give me the ocs i was owed (i don't fucking get why i had to add more ocs to that as i had already sent about 120 characters total.) and i warned her that i couldn't co own the character with her per mic's TOS. Regardless, she insisted on separating the original design and my partner's redesign (which was really not that different from the original character) into two different ocs so she could get her way and bypass mic's TOS.
Then i finally got two of the ocs i was owed but, not fully. I only got co owns of the two.

This wasn't what was agreed upon when we first traded, at all. And she was going to do it with more of the characters i was owed too, i went along with it because it had been months and i just wanted my characters home one way or another.
Generally, sunny treated me like a tool. She used me to get ocs she wanted, she used me to get "close" to one of my friends just because they're popular (she was allegedly telling other people that she was "on the way" to becoming friends with her???? note that said friend is freshly 18.) , she used me to get access to 16 year olds to befriend, she used me as her therapist, and she used me to get close to me and hear about my trauma. I don't know why she did all of this, i was only ever nice to her, and she never gave a single shit about me or my feelings, and only pretended to because she had something to gain from it.

I can confirm everything the other users have said is true, as i have witnessed it first hand or had it happen to me. A lot of this stuff was told to me by Sunny directly and it was wildly taken out of context to make Sunny look like the victim and everyone else the evil harassers.

I can send like 99% of those 🤟

Placeholder. 6/19/2024 5:36 PM
sum im def willing to co own for full owns btw ~~a bunch actually~~

[redacted] 6/19/2024 5:36 PM
Oh?

first mention of the supposed list

[redacted] Im just getting it strait so i dont like

Placeholder. 6/19/2024 4:57 PM
Whoever I'm able to do aswell myself anyone I know I won't use/have no interest in/feel need to go to u for one reason or another/any that aren't prev

on hold (edited)

A few of these already are like gettin yua there

I have a list of babes I'm gonna chunk here she kept double crossing me and changing around my offers

[redacted] 4/17/2024 8:22 PM

Waah shes not on the mini list tho

I wanna keep my previous offers

Cuz its just a lot easier

Placeholder. 4/17/2024 8:23 PM

some of the prev i lost intrest in 😭

heres where it all started

Placeholder. 6/19/2024 4:59 PM

There's def a good hand that I'm willing to yeet

Ima probably make a list so I don't struggle later

[redacted] 6/19/2024 5:00 PM

Gib me list when u got itt

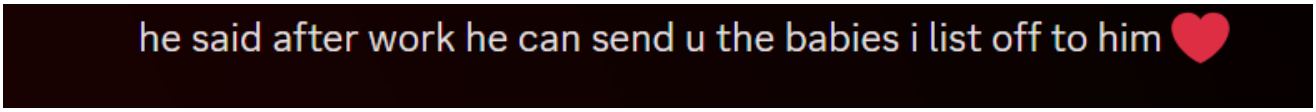
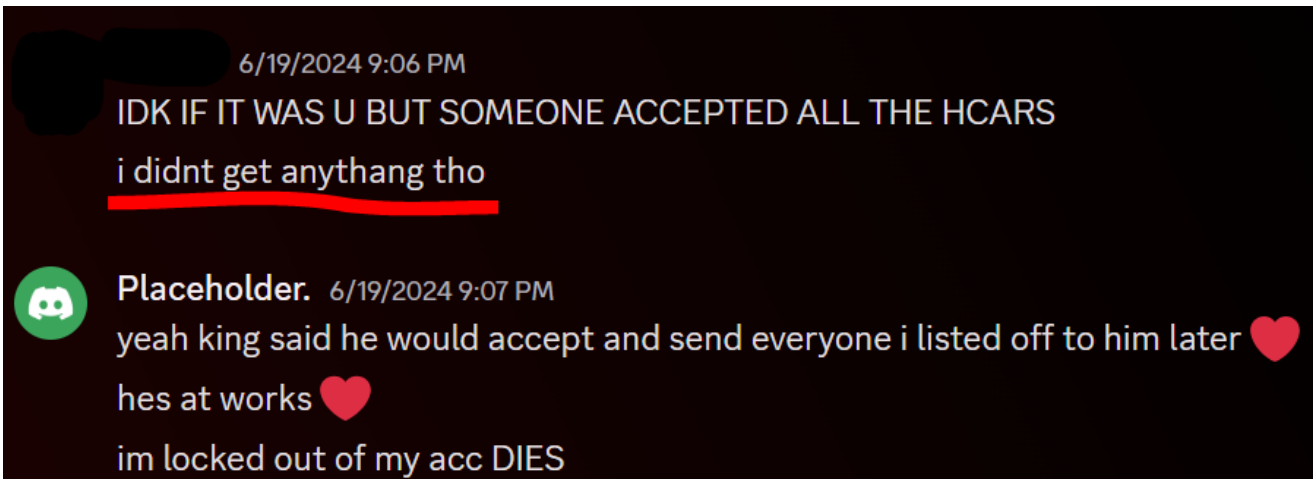
BF SAID DO U MIND IF HE ACCEPTS N STUFF?

HE LOGGED ME OUT AND LOCKED ME OUT LMAO

HE IS FORCING ME ON TH BREAK X'D





6/19/2024 9:06 PM
IDK IF IT WAS U BUT SOMEONE ACCEPTED ALL THE HCARS
i didnt get anythang tho
Placeholder. 6/19/2024 9:07 PM
yeah king said he would accept and send everyone i listed off to him later hes at works
im locked out of my acc DIES

with the fucking list

IN MY DREAM U WERE LIKE “im done sending” AND IT WAS 2 RANDOM BASE ADOPTS
Placeholder. 6/24/2024 4:32 PM
Nawhhh
I only send babies ppl have faved
There's a few ik I want gone but no reply yet!
6/24/2024 4:33 PM
Can u gimme ur list
Placeholder. 6/24/2024 4:33 PM
Some im debating on still so the list is useless rn SOBS heres her ghosting me when i got art of lightbulb, when we started co owning her, proving she didn't give a shit about these ocs and was just holding them hostage because.

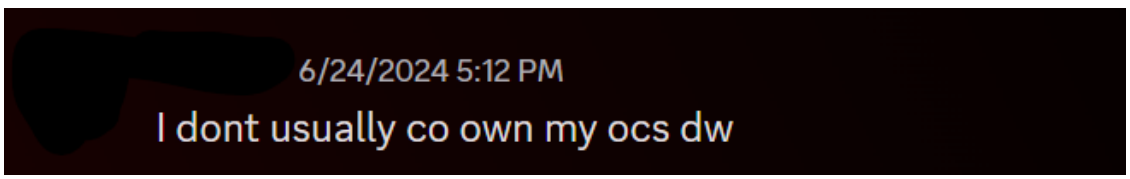
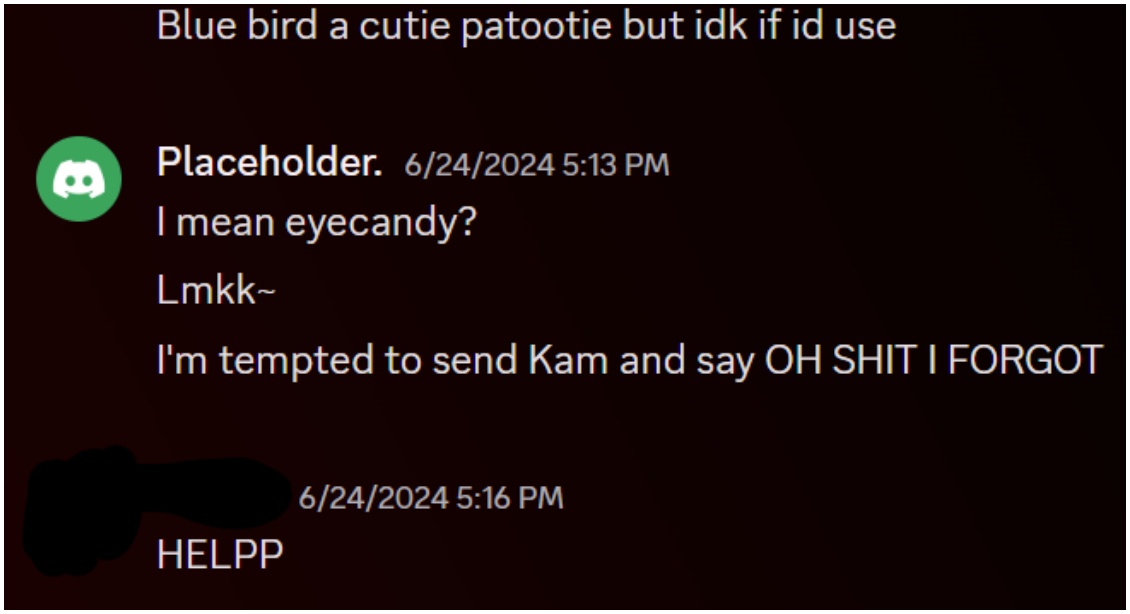
here's me telling her i didnt do co owns (she then pressured me to offer her co owns)





Blue bird a cutie patootie but idk if id use
Placeholder. 6/24/2024 5:13 PM
I mean eyecandy?
Lmkk~
I'm tempted to send Kam and say OH SHIT I FORGOT here's me VERY CLEARLY TELLING HER NOT TO USE MY CHARACTERS.
[redacted] 6/24/2024 5:16 PM
HELPP

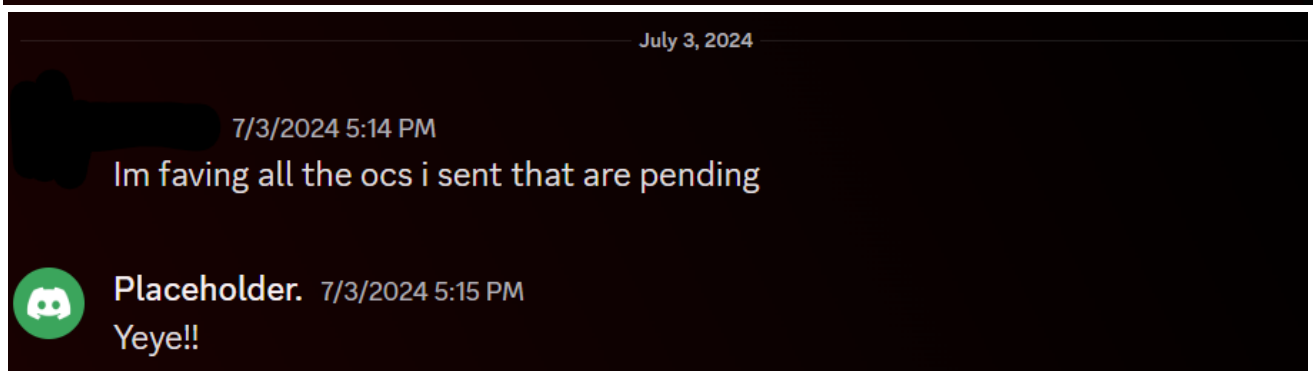
[redacted] 7/2/2024 6:20 PM
haii i wanted to ask about the trades because i sent about 100 charas and i still havent gotten mine :"0
i wanted to ask if u could put the ocs i sent in a holding folder or smth for now until i can have my side? sorryy im just anxious cuz i sent so many that i was very attached to
Placeholder. 7/2/2024 6:24 PM
AH dw I didn't know I'll try to get em sent over soon~
I've been VERY MENTALLY FCKED
[redacted] 7/2/2024 6:25 PM
yeah i getchu!! i dont wanna rush u or anything which is why i said u can just plop em in a holding folder for now



I'm workin on getting ur beans all situated

I'm giving this one person 2 days to reply

Aby the ones on hold

And then they're urs DIES

And I've got a list but I want it to be a surprise uvu some is money some is co owns som is ocs

[redacted] 7/3/2024 5:21 PM

I just wanna lyk i sent a lot of ocs im really really attached to cuz i was under the impression it was for the ocs on my fav folder (the one called “i want to eat you” or smth i forgot)

Placeholder. 7/3/2024 5:22 PM

Dw! Ik uvu I'm plotting some stuff

I wanna talk to my gay cuz a few he co owns so I'm waiting for him to get back to me too~

Psps could i get my ocs back? I feel like its been too long and this only stresses us both
I can link the ones I transferred
Not all cuz u did transfer some characters obvi but ill libk the ones
Placeholder. 9/24/2024 3:28 AM i have a bunch of co ocs set up I just haven't had much time auhh
i finally am not working days of my life away lol
9/24/2024 3:29 AM
I think atp id prefer to have some back because when i offered u were trading full ownership not co owns T~T
Placeholder. 9/24/2024 3:29 AM yeah there's a mix TvT;; but lmk who bTw how r u doin after yk
9/24/2024 3:31 AM
Its not a lot dw im not asking for all of them LOL but i sent like 100 so oof
Im better!!
Placeholder. 9/24/2024 3:31 AM

From what i sent at least
So theres still a lot that i sent for trades
I just guh i would feel a lot less anxious if i knew what i was getting yk? qvq /nm or anything dw
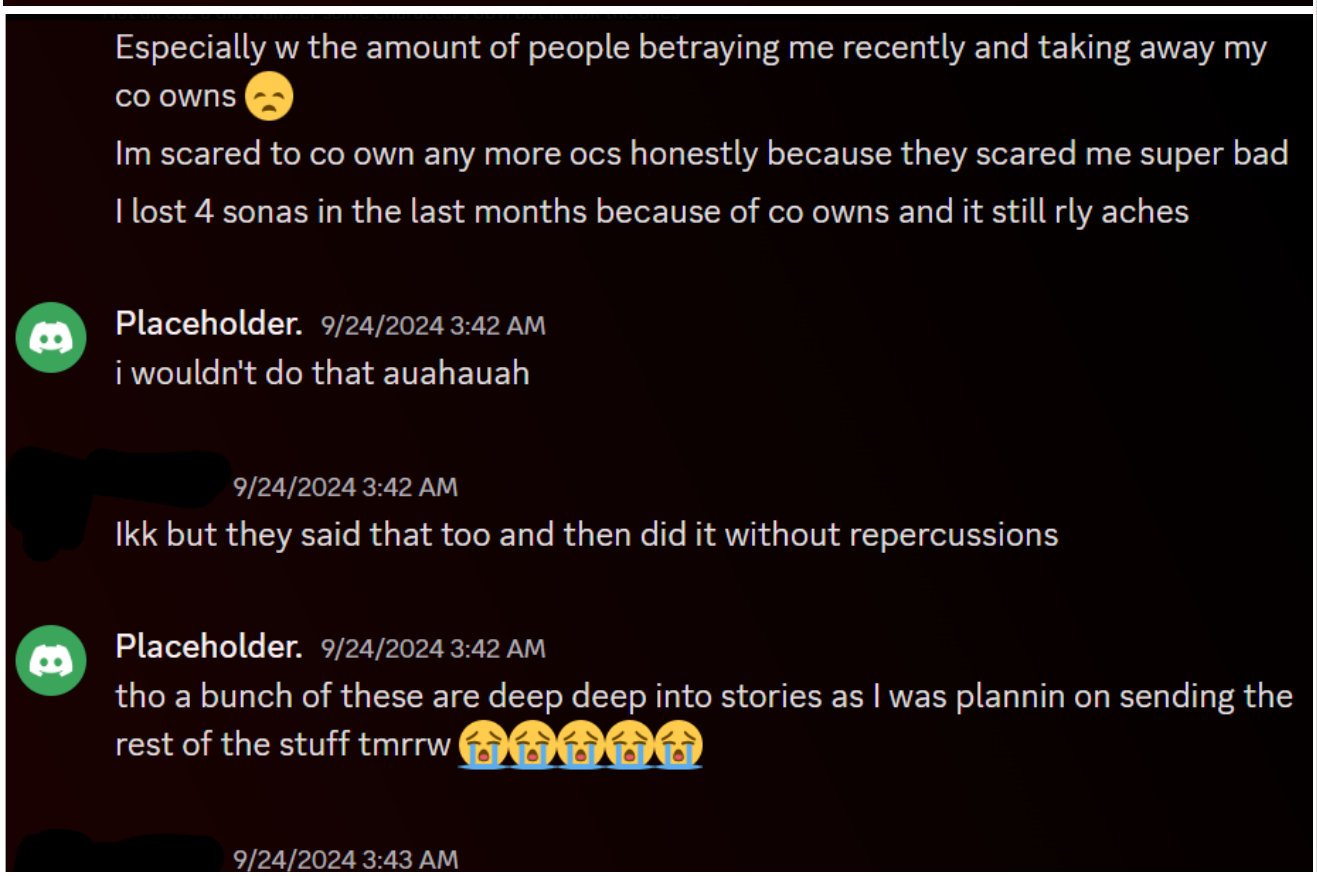
I get that life gets in da way
I don't blame u im just a very anxious person



Especially w the amount of people betraying me recently and taking away my co owns 😞
Im scared to co own any more ocs honestly because they scared me super bad
I lost 4 sonas in the last months because of co owns and it still rly aches

Placeholder. 9/24/2024 3:42 AM i wouldn't do that auahauah

friendship cuz i care u so muxh
But essentially i felt a little upset about a lot of the trade related things we did before T_T

Placeholder. Wh?? Whatcha mean?
12/19/2024 5:38 PM
Its not a big deal but i remember when u sent u a fuck ton of ocs i did it because i was under the impression i was getting characters like hokori for example, cuz u said they were all for trade at the time
I ended up not getting any and while ofc i still very much enjoyed trading w u i felt a little upset because I definitely overshot my offer 😭
U were having an episode im pretty sure, and i was panicking to try and not get you to do smth youd regret, so i just sent whoever i could to ur th in hopes itd help
Ended up trading characters i wouldnt have traded ever otherwise and i did ask for them back at one point but it wasn't worded well at all
Then recently with ur episode a lot of those ocs were in my th again, and i was rlly conflicted and hurt about it bc i just wanted to talk!! But I couldn't bc this stuff is stupid
Its not a big deal at all u don't have to worry ab it but basically we both panicked and I ended up doing smth I regretted while trying to protect u from doing the same
What hurt me is that when i tried to talk ab it u didn't respond to me :[i get u were busy though!!! I just wanted to talk about this now because its better to talk than to just leave it

SORRY HOLY SHIT I DIDNT INTEND FOR THAT TO BE LONG????
A whole lot of yapping

Thats why i wanted to talk about it
Its not a big issue but it did make me upset and nuh uh we cant have that Just like u can always tell me if i make u upset

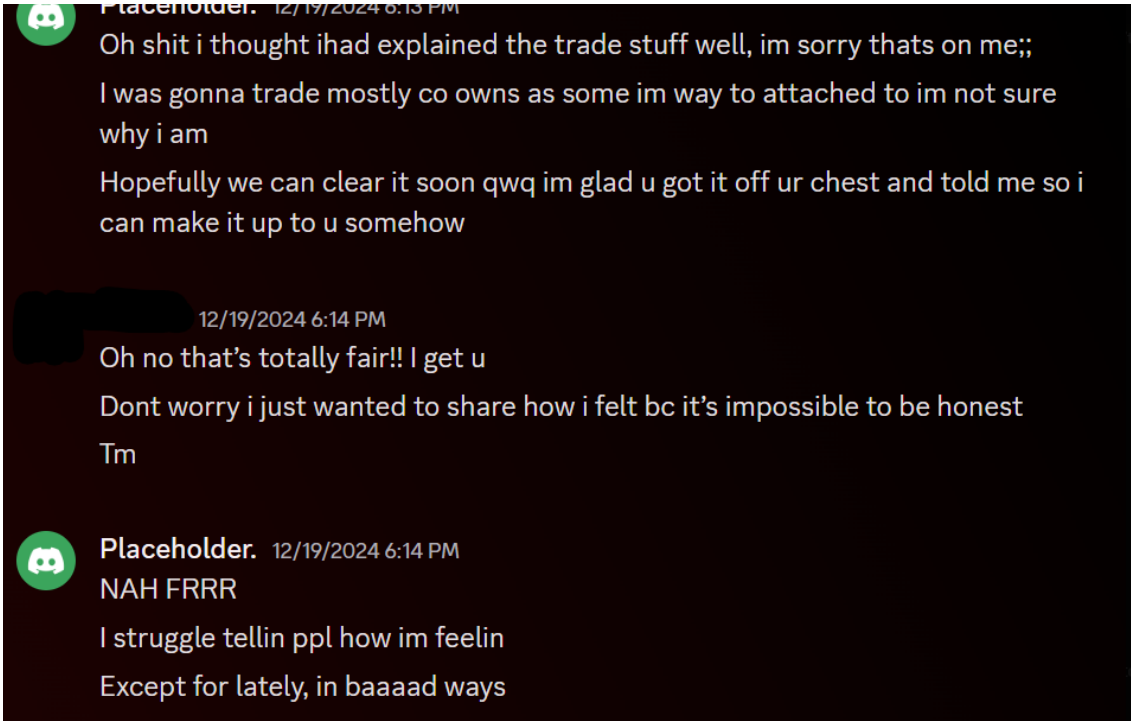
she said this but the issue persisted



Oh shit i thought ihad explained the trade stuff well, im sorry thats on me;;
I was gonna trade mostly co owns as some im way to attached to im not sure why i am
Hopefully we can clear it soon qwq im glad u got it off ur chest and told me so i can make it up to u somehow

I struggle tellin ppl how im feelin
Except for lately, in baaaad ways right after this she started trauma dumping and venting to me

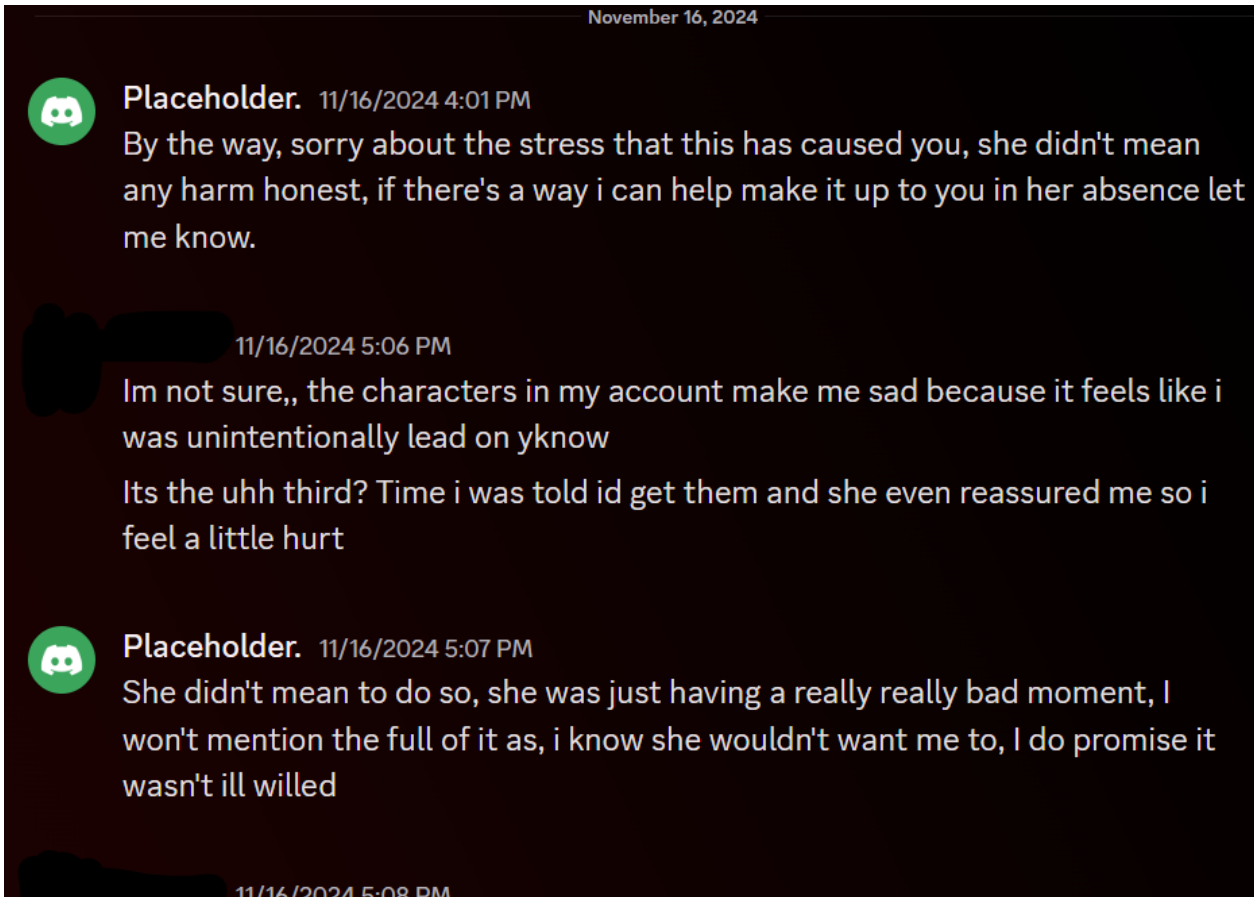
so i had to go from trying to talk about MY feelings to only caring about HERS
this was when she told us she was giving all her ocs back to the previous owners or something and told me i could transfer ocs to myself to hold them for her, the person i was talking to here is allegedly her alter



November 16, 2024
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 4:01 PM
By the way, sorry about the stress that this has caused you, she didn't mean any harm honest, if there's a way i can help make it up to you in her absence let me know.
11/16/2024 5:06 PM
Im not sure,, the characters in my account make me sad because it feels like i was unintentionally lead on yknow
Its the uhh third? Time i was told id get them and she even reassured me so i feel a little hurt
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:07 PM
She didn't mean to do so, she was just having a really really bad moment, I won't mention the full of it as, i know she wouldn't want me to, I do promise it wasn't ill willed

I know it wasn't dont worry

Im not mad I don't resent her, i could never, but it still makes me feel conflicted

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:09 PM
They're the ones that you co parent right?

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:09 PM
Co owns and other ones i really like some Ive loved since 2017

Its conflicting because of trauma I've endured very recently of someone doing the same thing, me giving back the characters, and then that person ripped them from me like it was nothing and is now passing them around like they don't matter

It's strange because to me characters are the only thing that holds my memories due to traumas and having that uncertainty that ill never see them again if i don't act fast is scary

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:11 PM
She would not do that to you, I myself can assure that, she probably shouldn't have done what she did but in the manic episodes she rarely has is scary, she is usually able to fend them off however.

But I can assure you she wouldn't break her promises to you if she did lose full connections to them, she cares to deeply for you.

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:13 PM
I knoww i just have such a fresh wound that it scared me super bad

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:14 PM
I can get that, she does not like those people i can assure you of that, she wouldn't ever wanna be like them.

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:14 PM
A part of me is saying i want to keep the ocs but I could never do that to her

Im not like that

And i care for her more than for ocs yknow

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:16 PM
I'm glad she has someone like you she can trust that way, many other "friends" of hers have only used her.

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:16 PM

I can see that

Im worried because this oc stuff might be stressing her out too much

The fact she's tried to get rid of them i think 3 times? In the past months is concerning :(makes me wonder if it's the best idea to keep going

Because people keep makinh drama with her over ocs and even I haven't had drama like that

And i can just tell people to fuck off but sunny struggles with that

It worries me

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:18 PM

Don't worry, a friend of hers will be handling "thatsmolbee"

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:18 PM

I just worry it'll happen again with someone else

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:20 PM

Also ill be super honest since that's the kind of person i am a part of me is like i know she loves these ocs but i would be getting art and constantly drawing them and sorting but i knowww thats just my subconscious little devil on my shoulder

And im terrified that she'll be back and be mad at me

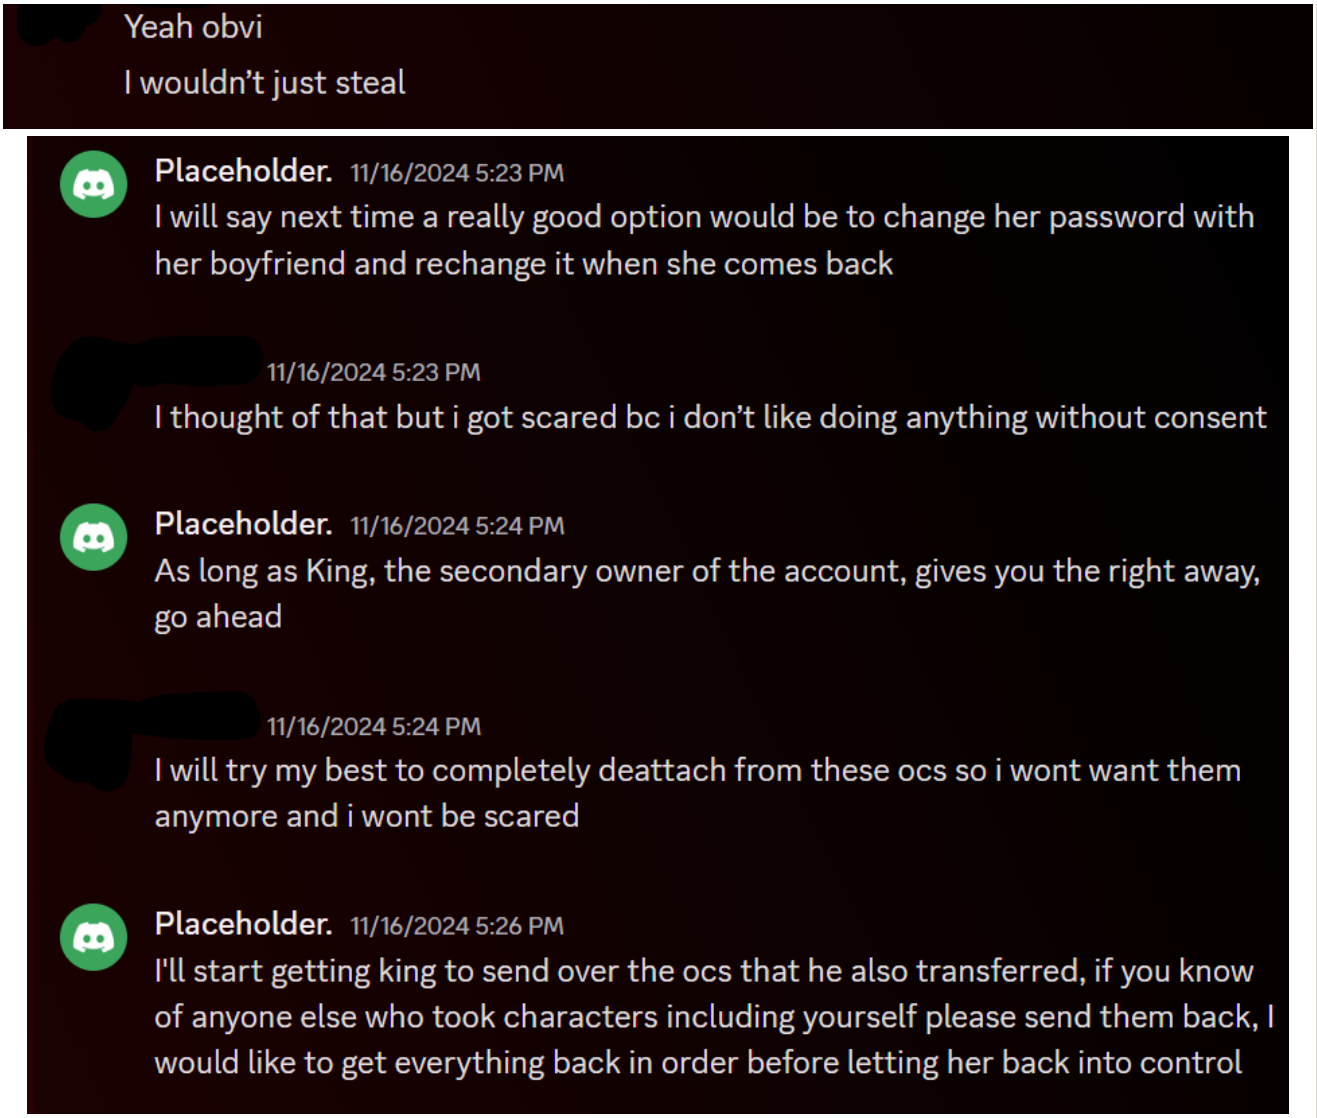
That i panicked or did something wrong. Because thats what happened with the other person

If this happens again ill just log in and cancel all transfers myself 😞

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:22 PM

No, she won't be mad, she will be upset if you do attempt to keep as you did tell her you wouldn't, but if you return them she wouldn't be angry by any means with you, she would be happy that you did store them and made sure no one else could take them

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:22 PM



Yeah obvi
I wouldn't just steal
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:23 PM
I will say next time a really good option would be to change her password with her boyfriend and rechange it when she comes back
[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:23 PM
I thought of that but i got scared bc i don't like doing anything without consent
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:24 PM
As long as King, the secondary owner of the account, gives you the right away, go ahead
[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:24 PM
I will try my best to completely deattach from these ocs so i wont want them anymore and i wont be scared
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:26 PM
I'll start getting king to send over the ocs that he also transferred, if you know of anyone else who took characters including yourself please send them back, I would like to get everything back in order before letting her back into control this was the last time i brought it up. after this i just gave up on ever getting my ocs back.

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:53 PM
Okii i do also wanna talk to her abt our prev trade bc it was done when she had an episode and i panicked and sent over ocs i rlly regret doing so
Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:54 PM
Absolutely, I would say give her a few days after coming out to calm down due to stress and in real life circumstances but then she should be okay to discuss trades and such with you
[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:54 PM
Because at that time she was saying she was selling everything so i was freaking out and just sent whatever ocs i could and ended up sending WAY too many and ones i am still very attached to 😭 they we're supposed to be held like im holding these ocs rn in sunny's th but she forgot and used them in stories before we finalized the trades so ive just been like T_T and trying to get over it

Placeholder. Absolutely, I would say give her a few days after coming out to calm down...

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:54 PM

Oh ya ofc

Ill need a break too

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:55 PM

I thought you both had discussed that with some co owns and other owns no? Sorry I am not very knowledgeable in all of this trade stuff

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:55 PM

Not entirely

Because when it originally happened i was under the impression i was getting everyone

Thats on my acc rn

So i just sent everything I could

We never got to discuss it further bc stuff kept happening

And i just kinda dont wanna be annoying i guess

And tried to get over it

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:57 PM

Ah alright, I'd give her just a bit to relax and calm down and then she can get back to you on it, i am more than sure she doesnt mind co owning sending more or whatever i again have no clue how it works

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:58 PM

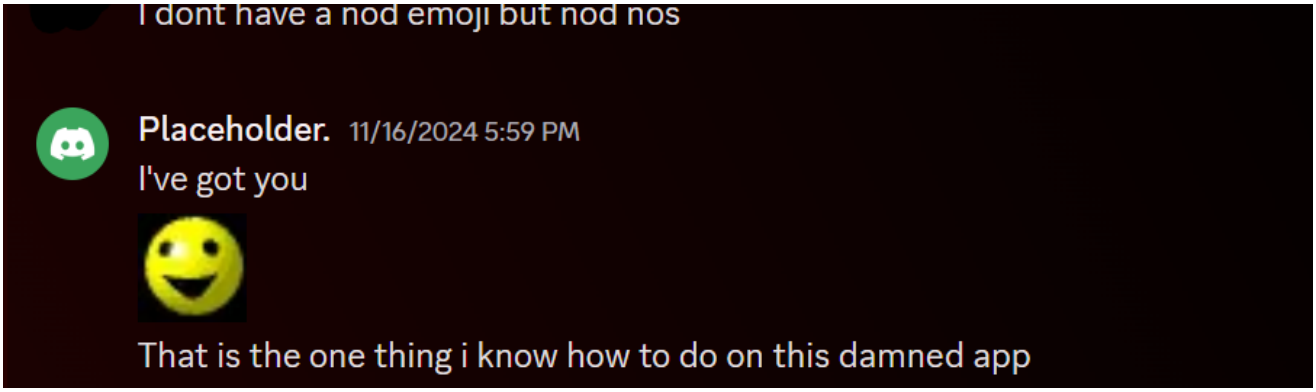
Yeah its all good <:) i just didn't want to be a bother

Still dont tbh im scared because trauma

Placeholder. 11/16/2024 5:59 PM

Right now she's going to have to handle her relationship but she will discuss with you when she is aware shes mentally better

[redacted] 11/16/2024 5:59 PM



I dont have a nod emoji but nod nos

OOOOO O OOO OO O OO O OO

she also did smth rly gross recently i forgot until now

One of my designs named Honeybun (pictured in the receipts below) was stolen by someone i had blacklisted. I had given the oc to an ex friend, and they gave it back to the blacklisted person who sold it and it ended up on another blacklisted user's account.
This blacklisted user that now owned her, was using her to hurt me.
This oc was inspired by a design my groomer took from me and sold without my consent when i called her out, i told sunny about this.
I have a revoke clause on my TOS, so the oc was technically revoked. I gave official ownership to my partner, sunny was present for that and said that she'd try get the oc for my partner.
When sunny got the oc though, she kept her. I felt pressured into saying she could, after she had already decided on it.
Then she started making. really gross jokes and edits of the previous owners art, she and her friends edited ~~period blood~~ into one of the drawings and were just generally gross about it. It made me uncomfortable.

I asked Sunny not to show me this oc because it triggered me to see it. It was not intended to be hers. Or anyone elses. It was my partner's.
She proceeded to send me images anyway.

RECEIPTS + More on Sunny repeatedly showing the OC even though she knew Seraph didn't want to see it:

CONTENT WARNING!

ARTWORK DEPICTING MENSTRUATION

THE ART WAS EDITED WITHOUT THE ARTIST'S (Toyhouse User kittyglitters') CONSENT.

My (Kyberr's) Testimony, with Receipts

At this time, I am providing my personal testimony and recounting my experience.
As previously mentioned, additional details and supporting evidence will be shared as they become available.

Hello! My name is Kyberr, or Ky for short.
My experiences with Sunny began in 2021 and continued until she ceased contacting me on March 11, 2025. I will present my experiences in chronological order.

Where It All Began: Gaslighting, Emotional Manipulation, Breach of Terms, and Character Identity Theft

In 2021, Sunny pressured me into selling my truesona, Kyberr, despite my clear discomfort. At the time, I was in a pretty bad financial situation, and while I was entertaining offers for Kyberr to help with bills, I was reluctant to part with her. Sunny reached out with an offer, which I initially declined, feeling that I would need a higher offer to let go of the design. She continued to message me, showering me with compliments on Toyhouse, and we eventually moved our communication to Discord to discuss the possibility of her purchasing Kyberr.

Our communication began on August 25, 2021, at 9:55:52 PM. Below is the receipt of her initial messages inquiring about purchasing Kyberr. At the time, my username was poolpvrty. The messages can be found starting from the very bottom of the screenshot.

DEFINITELY lmk!! I can 100% do the 100$ aswell!! Just lmk when ya can!! Tysm!!
If i do end up getting her i PROMISE she will be ADORED!!

Sent by poolpvrty on 25 Aug 2021, 10:41:18 pm
I'll tell you what! I'll think about it... because I'm still really unsure on selling her, she wasn't supposed to be sold in the first place but I'm in a really tough spot right now. If I decide I can let her go is it alright for me to ping you? I might try to reconnect with her again.. I'm just not sure yet, she's my oldest sona, her oldest iteration goes back to when I was in middle school!
If you want to be notified if I will sell her let me know!
Thank you for offering however!

Sent by GentleSweetCreations on 25 Aug 2021, 10:35:09 pm
Honestly shes lowkey worth it HNNN I MIGHT HAVE TO GO OVEF MY BUDGET JUST BECAUSE I A D O R E HER SM??

Sent by poolpvrty on 25 Aug 2021, 10:29:08 pm
I am extremely hesitant and tent on selling her, she's worth $100 the lowest I'll go is $70, but honestly tempted to only let her go at $100 because of sentimental value ;_;
Sorry if it's out of your price range !!

THIS BABY BRINGS ME SO MUCH NOSTALGIA,,LIKE..LOWKEY,,TEMPTED?? WHAT PRICES WOULD U TAKE MONEY WISE??

I made it clear from the beginning that I was not comfortable selling Kyberr. I had had her since 2014, and she was my first fursona that I connected with deeply, beginning when I was 13 years old. Kyberr was more than just a character to me; she represented me for who I was completely. She embodied my personality traits, hobbies, interests, and identity, and I considered her my truesona. I had a reference sheet for her that outlined all these elements, which would become highly relevant later in this situation.

Here are receipts of the message thread regarding the Kyberr transaction up until where I accepted it:

I guess for Kyberr it's a little different, I don't use her much, but she is still highly beloved and I have the most memories with her. I think the only way I'd be able to let this iteration go is if it's sold as a 'separate character' yk?
and I get to create some redesigned version, one that isn't too similar, the remaining traits would probably be the 3D eyes, but the coat would be a darker blue, and the markings would be different (edited)

I think, I may be okay with selling the design itself but not the character if you know what I mean? But it's still really difficult for me to sell design too, I guess this would just put me at ease a bit. I know you love her so much, and I know she'd be going to a good home. The new 'redesigned' one I would have wouldn't have long hair, it would probably be a husky like Float & my other OC Cookie, feral with a short tuft, just a similar color palette, but my same 'character' that I've had since middle school, and you'd be simply getting a version of what was my middle school character BAH IM SO BAD AT EXPLAINING

Despite my expressed discomfort, Sunny kept increasing her monetary offer. At first, she came across as kind and sweet, constantly complimenting the design and telling me how much she loved it, which made me feel both flattered and pressured. I was highly considering her offer because of how kind and sweet she was, as well as how much she continued to praise the design. Eventually, because I was unemployed and in dire need of cash to pay bills, and I had to replace my broken iPad to do artwork, I finally agreed to sell her the design under one very important and clear condition that I made extremely clear to her from the start.

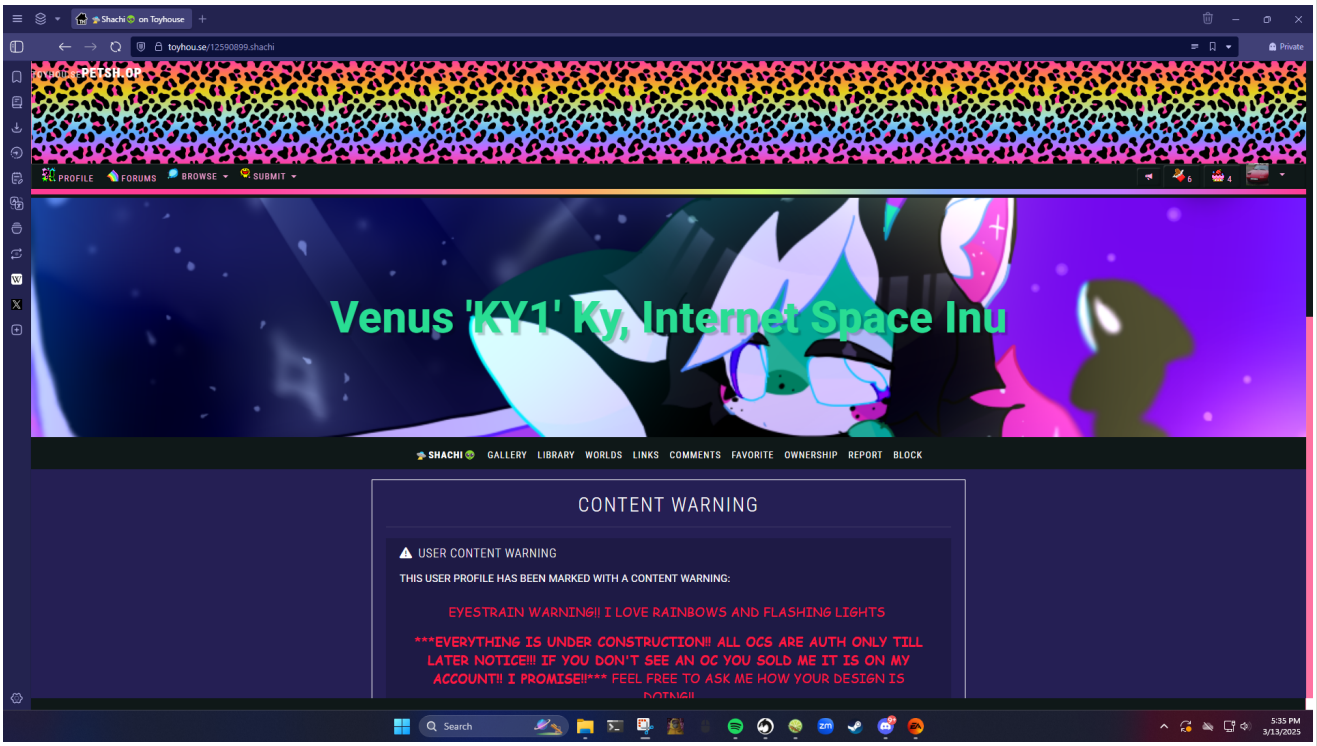
The agreement was that I would retain Kyberr, and Sunny would receive a separate character, Rocket, with no ties to Kyberr's identity. (As seen in the screencaps above) This condition was non-negotiable, and I made it abundantly clear that the two characters were to remain entirely separate, with Rocket having no connection to Kyberr. However, Sunny violated this agreement by retaining key aspects of Kyberr's personality, including my sexuality and interests. She even commissioned art that incorporated themes central to Kyberr's identity, such as orcas and Star Wars.

Throughout screenshots you will also see mentions of a character named Shachi. After the Rocket situation, I sold an old sona of mine, Shachi (which I had previously named "Venus Ky") to Sunny. (Which was my truesona that had the same character traits as Kyberr) Before transferring the character, I deleted and wiped all coding, the bio, and any personal information from the profile to ensure my private details were not included. I even made it clear to her that she should not use any of the information. However, after she received the character, Sunny reverted the profile back to my original coding, which was a paid code, and restored my personal information—including my real birthdate and personality traits. She told me this was a glitch (which is a complete lie, Toyhouse does not 'glitch' like that), but even if it was a "glitch" that does not explain to me how my entire bio and everything else was on that character's profile for over 1 entire year until I confronted her on it.

This action violated both my Terms of Service and Pinky's (The paid CSS/HTML coder's) Terms of Service. After I confronted her, she removed the bio, but the paid code remains in use despite her neither paying for it nor having the rights to use it.

The profile is still visible here: https://toyhou.se/12590899.shachi. If the link is broken,here is a receipt of the profile as of March 13, 2025:

Toggle Spoiler



Screenshots of Sunny ripping Kyberr's character off and putting it onto Rocket, as well as our conversations about it:

Toggle Spoiler

When she first received the character, Sunny showed me the coding she did for Rocket's profile. It was completely ripped from Kyberr's reference sheet, despite my having explicitly mentioned changing the information and making it clear that they were not the same character. I felt extremely uncomfortable, but at the time, she was so kind to me and conversed with me like a friend, making me feel as though a friendship was being built. Because of this, I had a hard time defending myself. Instead of directly confronting her, I tried to communicate that they should be different in a very subtle way.

For reference, here is Kyberr's reference sheet, which includes all of her character traits, personality, and other details. These elements were not to be used for Rocket.
The agreement was that Sunny would only receive the design itself, and not the information provided on the reference sheet. Since I did not have access to the original files to make edits, the details remained on the sheet, but I made it very clear that Rocket and Kyberr must be treated as entirely separate characters.

Below is the screencap of the coding she made for Rocket, which includes my sexuality (Demisexual, which she did not share as at the time she identified as a polyamorous lesbian/pansexual), my diagnoses for Aspergers (now recognized as ASD) + ADHD, and my age of 21. All of the information seen was directly ripped from the reference above. "Introverted" "Lone Wolf" "Goofy" "Horror" "Sci-Fi" "Video Games" "Dreamcore" "Star Wars" "Light Sabers" "Adventures" "Theme Parks" "Stargazing" and "Neon Lights" are all listed in the traits above that were meant for Kyberr's character only.

I made an effort to approach the situation kindly, as she had been very nice to me. However, I was extremely uncomfortable and clearly communicated that I did not want the characters to be identical. I would never have sold her the Rocket design if I had known it would retain the same traits and accessories as Kyberr. At the time, I still owned Kyberr, and she maintained the same personality traits and accessories, making it crucial for the two characters to be distinct from one another.

She ultimately designed Rocket's profile to look very similar to mine, using the same layout and coding, including the same glitter text. While I don't mind if others use similar coding, as I don't own the code, the fact that she replicated my entire layout and incorporated my personality traits into Rocket was increasingly upsetting. This, combined with the earlier issues, led me to confront her about the situation.

I want to be clear: I'm not gatekeeping code; it's about how everything was literallycopied—Rocket was ripped directly off of Kyberr, and she replicated my entire profile layout, even using the exact same glitter text. Naturally, I was uncomfortable with this. I tried to shrug it off at first, but ultimately, I felt the need to speak up about the situation.

CatBride 9/4/21, 11:23 AM of course it's a code you bought. But it's just, looking a lil too similar with the glitter text, yk what I mean from my perspective?
like suddenly it's the same coding and similar layout with the glitter text?
NOT ONLINE. DONT DM 9/4/21, 11:25 AM
i'm not trying to copy u by anymeans TvT;; i just like glitter and when i saw how pretty the glitter text looked i was inspired more so? i tried to use different glitter and fonts;; ill see what i can do to change that?
CatBride 9/4/21, 11:25 AM ok it's just
it does feel a little copying? especially how Rocket is still the same character and substance as my original Kyberr, as I told you to edit it but you just changed the wording. I tried to shrug it off but now the profile thing, it's just feeling a little weird to me? I'm sorry
I hope you can understand from my perspective
I explicitly stated you get the design and not the character and it seems the character was remained the same for the most part, I didn't think it would happen as when people buy designs from me they tend to personalize it themselves

She told me that she had edited Rocket to make her her own. However, I will provide screenshots of the edits she made and compare them to Kyberr's reference sheet. Despite her claims of making edits, it's clear that many of the traits still closely resemble those found in Kyberr's reference sheet.

Below is the screenshot of what she had changed compared to the original referencesheet. While she eventually removed the "Big Star Wars Fan" trait, everything else remained the same as shown below.

Additionally, she began commissioning a significant amount of artwork that was integral to Kyberr's design, such as orcas—an element that is extremely sentimental to me—and Star Wars-related imagery, including lightsabers, which also holds sentimental value.

The artwork Sunny commissioned of Rocket with orcas is another issue. While I'm not gatekeeping orcas, they are a key part of Kyberr's identity. Seeing Rocket repeatedly associated with orcas in the commissioned artwork made me extremely uncomfortable, as it violated the terms we agreed upon and overshadowed my original character's identity.

Similarly, I have included the pieces she commissioned with Star Wars lightsabers. Star Wars is deeply integral to Kyberr—her name is derived from Kyber Crystals, and her colors are inspired by red and blue lightsabers. Seeing these elements tied to Rocket made me feel like I was losing Kyberr, as if the core of my character was being overtaken by Rocket.

Reference Sheet with Kyberr's information in which Sunny agreed to wipe and not use.
It was the core term of selling the design, and she was told the design would not be sold otherwise.
She was to only get the design with a brand new name, identity and character traits.
I would keep Kyberr with a redesign with the exact same character traits, accessories, and personality from the reference sheet below as she had been my truesona since 2013/2014.
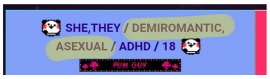
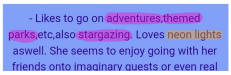
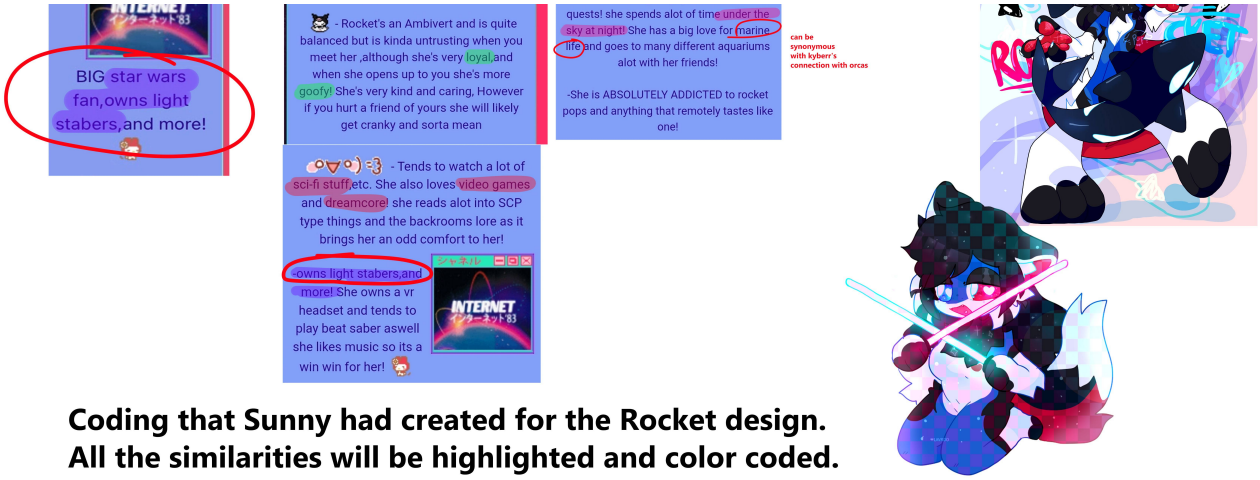
This was the most important term, and she broke that immediately as seen below.





- Likes to go on adventures,themed parks,etc,also stargazing. Loves neon lights aswell. She seems to enjoy going with her friends onto imaginary quests or even real

Art Sunny commissioned with Kyberr's Accessories. Star Wars & Orcas are an integral part of Kyberr's Identity and Design. This was to not be associated with the Rocket design at all.



BIG star wars fan,owns light stabers,and more!
- Rocket's an Ambivert and is quite balanced but is kinda untrusting when you meet her ,although she's very loyal,and when she opens up to you she's more goofy! She's very kind and caring, However if you hurt a friend of yours she will likely get cranky and sorta mean quests! she spends alot of time under the sky at night! She has a big love for marine life and goes to many different aquariums alot with her friends!
-She is ABSOLUTELY ADDICTED to rocket pops and anything that remotely tastes like one!
can be synonymous with kyberr's connection with orcas
- Tends to watch a lot of sci-fi stuff,etc. She also loves video games and dreamcore! she reads alot into SCP type things and the backrooms lore as it brings her an odd comfort to her!
-owns light stabers,and more! She owns a vr headset and tends to play beat saber aswell she likes music so its a win win for her!
INTERNET
Coding that Sunny had created for the Rocket design.
All the similarities will be highlighted and color coded.

This whole situation caused me a lot of emotional distress. For years, I struggled with my sense of self, my identity, and my creative expression because of what Sunny had done. Kyberr, my truesona, felt completely tainted, and I started to feel like I didn't really own her anymore. I spent so much time making redesign after redesign, trying to reclaim her identity, but it felt pointless. No matter what I did, the redesigns ended up looking too similar to Rocket, and eventually, I just gave up, feeling like I didn't have her anymore.

After giving up, I ended up stepping away from drawing altogether. I left Toyhouse and Instagram, going on hiatus for around 2 years~. I would occasionally upload something, making attempts to come back and rekindle my relationship to OC creation / the furry community, but I was nowhere near as active as I used to be. I was just trying to process everything, and it took a toll on my creativity and my passion.

I eventually bought the design back, which I go into more below, but the emotional and psychological impact was deep and lasting. I've included receipts of my confrontation with Sunny about this.

You can see all the redesigns I made over the years, as I rightfully own them again, here: https://toyhou.se/Kyberr/characters/folder:6259982

When I addressed the situation with Sunny, she claimed that the traits in question were accurate to herself and refused to change them, despite the fact that none of her other sonas reflected these characteristics, and there was no indication of them anywhere on her profiles. I want to make it clear that I'm not gatekeeping these traits; it's not about ownership of interests or elements. What I'm concerned with is the fact that I was very clear from the beginning that Kyberr and Rocket were to be two separate and distinct characters. Yet, Sunny went ahead and copied key aspects of Kyberr's reference sheet, essentially carbon-copying her personality and interests. When I confronted her about this, she lied and claimed she hadn't done so, which felt manipulative.

It might seem petty to mention, but Sunny also claimed that all these traits—like the Star Wars references—were relevant and accurate to her. However, she didn't know what a Sith or Jedi was, and she had never actually seen Star Wars. To me, this only added to the feeling that she was trying to claim traits and interests that weren't truly hers, further undermining the clear distinction between Kyberr and Rocket. While this may seem like a small detail, I felt it was important to highlight, especially given her insistence that these traits were truly hers.

Her response, in my opinion, was emotionally manipulative. She expressed that I was "hurting her" by approaching her kindly about the situation, trying to shift the blame onto me for simply pointing out that she had broken our agreement. She even used our "similarities" as an excuse to justify her actions and break the terms we had agreed upon. While I acknowledge that Sunny and I share some interests, the key elements that define Kyberr's identity—traits directly tied to who she is—were supposed to be unique to Kyberr and not applied to Rocket. I made that very clear when we discussed the terms of the sale.

Below are screencaps of my messages where I expressed my true feelings and confronted Sunny again about the similarities between Kyberr and Rocket. This situation had been eating away at me for a couple of months at this point, but I saw her as a (loose) friend and didn't want to hurt her, which is why I tried to approach the issue with as much kindness as possible.

However, she started making me feel guilty for confronting her, claiming that I was the one causing harm to her. She denied carbon-copying Kyberr's reference sheet, despite the clear evidence and started to gaslighting me—denying obvious facts and trying to make me question my reality. Even with concrete proof of the similarities, she twisted the situation to make me doubt myself. She even told me that she "feels seriously hurt for it that I single-handedly harmed you," which felt incredibly manipulative. Instead of acknowledging her violation of our agreement, she flipped the narrative and made it seem like I was the villain for addressing the issue. This emotional manipulation made it harder for me to stand my ground, as I didn't want to hurt her, but at the same time, I felt like my own feelings and boundaries didn't matter.

In the screencaps, we are both on new discord accounts. I am Kacey, she is Mental Hiatus/Social Media Detox.

It's okay. Just as I stated with Rocket, I wanted every last detail of her wiped as it was me, and I only wish that at least for Shachi every single current info is reset and you input your own personality @Kacey someone just recently bought my old sona..... and i erased everything. they put their own coding, but all the personality and info was just how it was before with my exact ...

Yikes
I wouldnt wanna steal ur identity by any means;; thats rude asf
Kacey 01/31/2022 7:45 PM
Yeah because, I won't lie, it does make me uncomfortable that a lot of traits of Rocket are still me despite you not relating to them, like being a huge star wars fan... i just, idk, i see this happen a lot
I've been trying to make Kyberr be her own unique self. I sold you her old design, but I want them to be different and disconnected from one another, can't help but feel like the personalities are too similar
I don't want this to happen with Shachi
I don't want to be rude or anything, but I want to let you know in the nicest way possible that it does make me uncomfortable. I still own Kyberr and she is still the same character just a new design, I just wish Rocket was more unique
And I honestly wouldn't be too happy if Shachi kept the same info I had previously but just altered a bit
You are free to edit the reference sheet in any way you'd like, If you're able to start fresh and remove all her details and start from scratch that would relieve a lot of my anxieties
Because this is what I had intended from the beginning, but it just snowballed
Mental Hiatus/Social Media Detox 01/31/2022 7:51 PM
Can you stop eating into me im sorry but this is really starting to hurt, half of rockets ref isnt even accurate to how i present her now, her coding is how shes presented, me, whos getting into starwars and loving it, i only asked a question that wasnt intended to harm u but now i just feel seriously hurt for it that i single handedly harmed u
Her info is gone on shachi i finally found a way to bypass it after days of trying for you to feel comfy, and rocket is rocket now she isnt kyberr shes suppose to me me, with my own mental disorders, my own interests, you and i have some of the same things yes but im not carbon copying off her ref sheet
Mental Hiatus/Social Media Detox 01/31/2022 8:06 PM
I already removed the starwars bit, everything else on her coding i relate to Everything on her coding is me who shes suppose to be representing and i wont be changing that,,

Racey 01/31/2022 8:08 PM
Okay. That's good for you, just please remember to change her ref sometime down the line. I can't do it myself, I can't look at it. It hurts too much.
Mental Hiatus/Social Media Detox 01/31/2022 8:08 PM
Im just gonna hide her ref, i dont know how to remove the stuff from it Ill just buy a new ref.

The complete photo of the coding below. I already had this in the previous receipts with the comparison of the reference sheet. Sunny also claims she will just buy a new reference sheet for Rocket, which never happened.

Sunny had countless other personality traits and interests that were accurate to her other sonas—traits that would have been more than suitable for Rocket. Yet, she chose to directly replicate Kyberr's identity. This wasn't an innocent misunderstanding—it was a deliberate choice, and it felt like a direct violation of the agreement we had. The emotional pain I experienced seeing my character's essence taken from me was profound, and it deeply affected my sense of self and creative expression.

I know some may think this is silly, that it's just pixels, just a colorful cartoon animal. But Kyberr is who I consider my soul, and I've considered her as such since I was 13 years old. I joined the furry fandom with her, and she's been through so much alongside me—evolving with me throughout middle school, high school, and into adulthood, right up until I sold her. I spent countless hours creating her design, and she has always been extremely sentimental to me—her design, the orcas, the Star Wars elements, and all the traits attached to her. I literally felt broken from this, especially since she refused to change these elements even though it was part of our agreement when I sold her the design. She made me feel like I was the bad guy and that I was the one who hurt her.

After this interaction, Sunny disappeared from her socials, including Toyhouse, and we did not have contact again until late 2022.

In 2022, I reconnected with Sunny through Google Hangouts after reaching out to King-AngelSixx / CelticWolf, one of Sunny's partners (who they are still together with). They provided me with Sunny's contact, and we began catching up. During our conversation, the situation regarding Kyberr came up. Sunny mentioned that the redesigns I was creating were making her uncomfortable because the characters appeared too similar. While I understood her perspective, I explained that the reason I kept redesigning was because I felt like the previous design before was a little too similar and I created more to create distinctions, and at times I wasn't entirely sure - and was not my intention since I didn't want to be associated with Rocket's design any longer anyways.

We reconnected December 7, 2022.

Here are screencaps of the conversation below, where I ask for updates on Rocket's profile to see if the coding is still the same. The screenshots also include her agreeing to notify me or ping me if she ever decides to sell Rocket, which is important information for later. (She never ended up pinging me or notifying me)

LOTS OF GASLIGHTING, LYING, AND TOYING WITH MY EMOTIONS HERE.
All the information you need to understand the situation for 2022 is included in the screenshots, along with the context I provide.

I'm at work as well, no worries!
And please be more vocal about it, as I try my best to keep them different and sometimes I'm unsure of myself, it is not my intention and I get afraid that it can come off as too close.
Can you please tell me which design / or what design that were pretty close? I can change that for you (and honestly I probably don't use it anyways)
So apologies for that!
Just a reminder that I did only sell Rocket under the condition that I would continue to create more versions of that design that can come off as similar, as she is apart of a childhood design which has multiple and growing versions
Dec 7, 2022, 12:35 PM
Unfortunately it won't be resolved unless someone tells me which one is too similar. But yeah... I did warn you that I was only selling that version of the design and I still kept Kyberr the character and will continue to make versions of her. They are basically redesigns. It's meant to keep the same traits throughout the way (Red and Blue eyes, Black and white Hair, mainly blue body, and the hearts) as they are all traits that I kept for nearly a decade that I will continue to use
Dec 7, 2022, 12:38 PM
The uncomfortable-ness is understandable, but then again I was only selling the design under the terms that I would keep the character and redesign her (I do so multiple times)
But again with these terms aside, it is not my intention to make you uncomfortable. So please let me know what I can do to fix that.
On the topic of uncomfortable-ness, what does make me uncomfortable is the copying of my original interests and personality traits that came with Kyberr and are associated with Kyberr. (Star Wars, light sabers, orcas, and anything that was associated with

That makes me uncomfortable and still does, as it makes me feel like I don't own Kyberr anymore. I think I confronted you about this before. Can you confirm to me that those things have changed? Because you don't own Kyberr. And the last time I look at her TH it made me feel like you do

I want to resolve this. I want to keep these two characters separate, so please tell me what we can do to fix this? I can get to fixing things design wise, but I also don't want Rocket to have my personality attached. It makes me feel a sense of loss of self.

Dec 7, 2022, 12:45 PM

I hate mentioning my feelings too, but can we just say what we are feeling now? I've been harboring this for a long time. And I want you to have your say on my designs being too close as well so I can fix it, and we can work on what can be used and not be used. As I don't have mal-intent, I only want to fix things.

If the Rocket profile is still the same as before I want to ask you to change her to a completely different character in terms of personality - one disconnected from Kyberr. I know in the past you have told me that you cannot do that and it's because me and you are similar people, but it's the issue of those traits and that bio being attached to a design that once belonged to me and I considered to be myself. You are free to attach those characteristics to other characters but I ask not for Rocket and it hurts me a lot.

Dec 7, 2022, 12:51 PM

You are a kind person, and I mean what I say when I say I don't come to you with any mal-intent. But I need to come to you with these issues, because even a year later I am dealing with loss of self due to it.

I've had sleepless nights, nightmares, had to call out of work for an entire year because

History is on

(When I said I had to call out work for an entire year, what I meant was that throughout the year, I called out due to feeling mentally unwell because of the situation. I just want to clarify that it doesn't mean I was absent from work for the entire year)

You are a kind person, and I mean what I say when I say I don't come to you with any mal-intent. But I need to come to you with these issues, because even a year later I am dealing with loss of self due to it.

I've had sleepless nights, nightmares, had to call out of work for an entire year because I personally am bad with talking about my feelings, and I have been harboring these feelings with me, and over this past year when I sold you that design, I had experienced a direct mental decline and I disappeared off the face of the art scene from instagram and twitter due to the mental issues I was facing from this.

I know it may not seem big of a deal for you or anything, but I needed to finally tell you this a year later because it hurts me a great deal. It's very painful, and it feel like I have lost myself. Was it my fault in part? Yes, because I thought this would go smoothly, that you would buy the design and be on your merry way with a brand new traits and character attached. But that didn't go that way at all, and when you kept buying my previous sonas, it kept making me feel really uncomfortable. Especially when I found out Shachi's bio was put back on your profile after I deleted it. And it had all my interests, traits, my hobbies, my exact personality, and it was still there in your hands. It has caused me a lot of mental toil, and I don't know if I can take it anymore and I need to tell you about this.

Because I know you're living your life probably free and not knowing or caring about this while I'm probably torturing myself over it.
I think you're cool, kind, and have showed me an open hand but again I mean zero mal-intent. I don't think what you did was intentional, but I wanted to let you know how I feel.

In our conversation, Sunny made me feel guilty by saying that her connection to Rocket was severed because she was hurt by the fact that she hurt me. Then, she told me that when I confronted her in a kind way, it made her feel like I was never really her friend, even though she considered me close. This felt manipulative because it shifted the focus away from the issue at hand (her violating our agreement, and her hurting my feelings) and made me feel responsible for her emotions. Instead of owning up to what happened, she turned it around and made me feel like I was the one in the wrong, which was really emotionally manipulative.

She also mentioned that the redesigns I was working on upset her because they started feeling like completely separate characters, detached from Kyberr's profile. I explain why I had done that below.

I have changed them yes, im not comfortable sharing the th as im under a private acc and i dont wanna share that account for my comfortability as no one but me has it and my partners and i wanna keep it that way, as i told u initially when we spoke of it it was changed
And with all of it i get it some of it confused me at first when mentioned still kinda does but im doing my best to understand still but it has been changed
I dont have photos of the designs ofc rn, ik the agreements ofc, and i remember them, more so i guess these are to close for comfort TvT they kinda hurt my connection to her aswell even though i love her sm,, ill admit my connection to her has been severed from her multiple times due to me feeling as if it was my fault u kept going under even if i never fully understood or as if i hurt you, the reason i kept buying sonas from u is cuz i saw u and still see you as an idol, youre an awesome designer awesome artist. Not to take anything from ur identity by anymeans;; and for awhile i needed a break as it began to be hard and started to hurt and it felt as if i were never your friend in the first place when i did consider you very close;; rocket doesnt have a profile anymore bio wise as shes JUST a vr sona as i couldnt connect to her as a PERSONAL art oc sadly TvT;;

I have no mal intent either, her profile was removed the night we spoke of it or the last time we spoke of it, but ill admit im very sensitive and i can get hurt very easily,,;; i was trying to connect in ways with you as a friend with the same interests and hobbies we shared qwq;; but then it was kinda shot down as if i were trying to harm you,, and i never understood nor understand still why;;

Just a fair warning, in this section I vent and explain my perspective on the situation. I also reference a past experience I had in high school with an individual who had BPD, where they mirrored my entire personality, interests, and so on, and manipulated me throughout our friendship. This situation with Sunny reminded me a lot of that experience.

I want to make it clear that I am not demonizing BPD at all. It was just the individual from high school's mirroring behavior really hurt me.

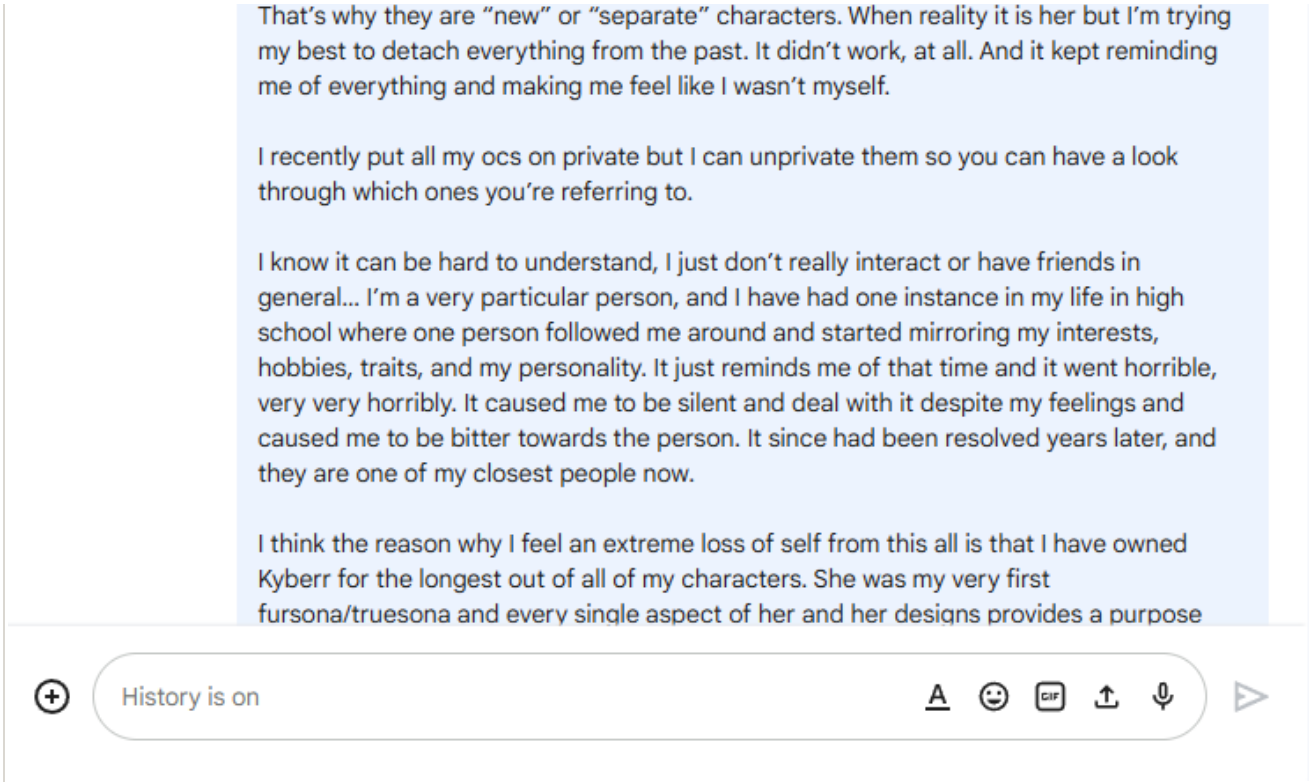
Dec 7, 2022, 5:29 PM

Okay, I don't mean to send you into a PTSD attack. I apologize if it has come off that way. The reason why I started making Kyberr designs but as separate ocs is because I felt like Kyberr was taken away from me, so in turn I tried to recreate it and try to feel like myself again without the history or past of Kyberr and what happened to be attached.



That's why they are "new" or "separate" characters. When reality it is her but I'm trying my best to detach everything from the past. It didn't work, at all. And it kept reminding me of everything and making me feel like I wasn't myself.
I recently put all my ocs on private but I can unprivate them so you can have a look through which ones you're referring to.
I know it can be hard to understand, I just don't really interact or have friends in general... I'm a very particular person, and I have had one instance in my life in high school where one person followed me around and started mirroring my interests, hobbies, traits, and my personality. It just reminds me of that time and it went horrible, very very horribly. It caused me to be silent and deal with it despite my feelings and caused me to be bitter towards the person. It since had been resolved years later, and they are one of my closest people now.
I think the reason why I feel an extreme loss of self from this all is that I have owned Kyberr for the longest out of all of my characters. She was my very first fursona/truesona and every single aspect of her and her designs provides a purpose

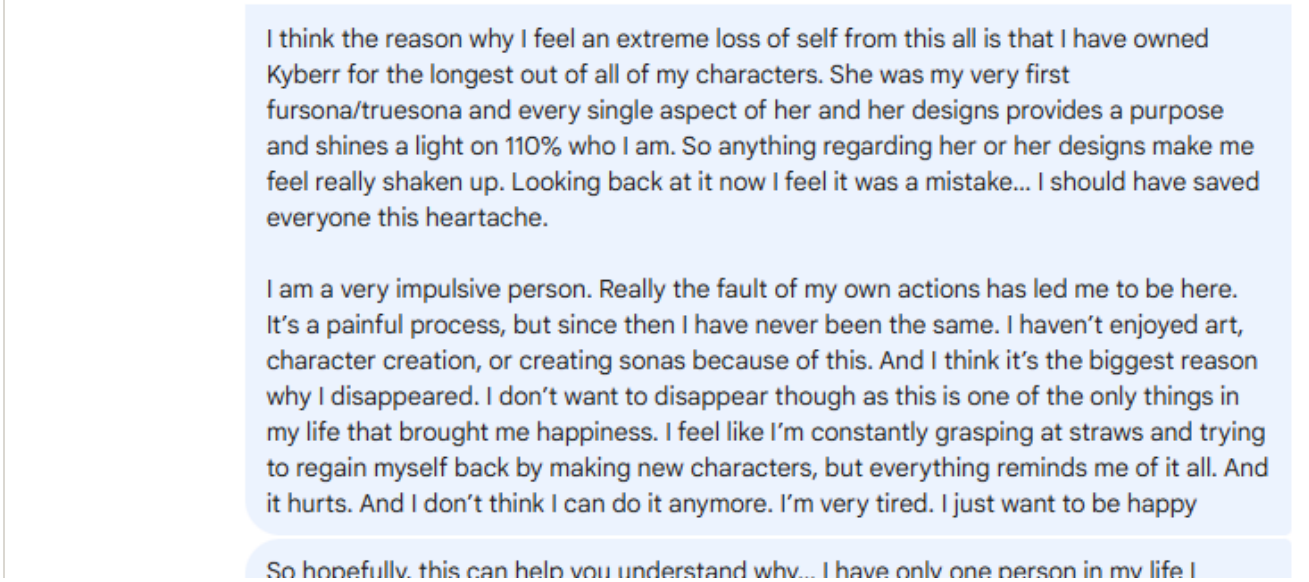
Here's a screenshot of me expressing my feelings and explaining how I felt about the situation. I also mention that, at the time, I didn't really feel like her friend either, since she mostly talked about herself, her OCs, and only messaged me to discuss those things, commission me, or buy my designs. I also mentioned she always had a proxy (third person that wasn't her) throughout the year we didn't have contact to buy characters off of me and give it to her. I explain that I felt she was only using me for my art and designs.

I ended up blaming myself for what happened, even though, looking back, I realize it's not my fault. I was clear with her from the start about my boundaries and the agreement we had. It wasn't my decision for her to go behind my back and break that agreement. I never allowed or accepted that behavior. But it happened.



I think the reason why I feel an extreme loss of self from this all is that I have owned Kyberr for the longest out of all of my characters. She was my very first fursona/truesona and every single aspect of her and her designs provides a purpose and shines a light on 110% who I am. So anything regarding her or her designs make me feel really shaken up. Looking back at it now I feel it was a mistake... I should have saved everyone this heartache.
I am a very impulsive person. Really the fault of my own actions has led me to be here. It's a painful process, but since then I have never been the same. I haven't enjoyed art, character creation, or creating sonas because of this. And I think it's the biggest reason why I disappeared. I don't want to disappear though as this is one of the only things in my life that brought me happiness. I feel like I'm constantly grasping at straws and trying to regain myself back by making new characters, but everything reminds me of it all. And it hurts. And I don't think I can do it anymore. I'm very tired. I just want to be happy
So hopefully, this can help you understand why... I have only one person in my life I actively talk to. I'm highly introverted and keep to myself. I don't have a big friend group or a support group of people who have my back. I'm reclusive and standoffish when it comes to new people coming into my life and sometimes people are a little to enthusiastic and mirror me unintentionally and it makes me feel really awful

I feel the same way as I felt like I was never your friend to begin with either. You were kind and I don't really interact with people, but I felt more and more that you kept talking about yourself and only really poked me about my characters and that you wanted to buy them. It made me feel horrible. Especially having a proxy or people to buy it for you without directly messaging me... I've known for a while that it was your friends contacting me for characters for you. I just felt like you were only in it for my sonas and my designs.

I think I made a mistake and a year later I'm paying for it. I don't know why I decided to sell a design attached to my very first fursona that meant the world to me, I don't know why. I needed the money at the time really badly as I was in a bad financial state. And the offer kept getting higher and I was just appalled by it. Now it is nothing to me... I have a job to hold my own, and it was a mistake. I'm sorry

Her responses to my messages, gaslighting me, telling me she did not rip anything from me, and she proceeded to guilt me even though I have been nothing but kind to her. I always gave her the benefit of the doubt, because like I said, she always came off as extremely kind and friendly.

I just didn't know it would go this way. Every single person I sold characters to wiped the profiles and started off fresh with their traits and their personality. When I saw that Rocket was essentially a copy of Kyberr I saw my life and my sense of self flash before me. I haven't been the same since. And frankly I don't know how to resolve it. I've been trying to resolve it alone for a whole year, but how can I resolve this without telling you the big picture?

Dec 7, 2022, 5:38 PM

I just can't believe I finally have the guts to tell you this, and here it is, the spectacle of it all. I apologize if this ruins your image of me. Again I don't mean mal-intent. I think you're a very sporadic and excitable person that gets enthusiastic about things, and I don't think or know exactly if you mean to do these things intentionally, at least I don't think you did it to completely hurt me, but it did feel very personal as it is dealing with my person and my being in traits and personality. I don't know how I can recover from this? I keep making characters and sonas and throw them to the side because I can't grasp who I am anymore. I feel like it was ripped from me and I am not me anymore. I think I need therapy.

Dec 7, 2022, 5:55 PM

I bring this to your attention as I've been holding this and think about it every day after an entire year of this. It involves you and I think you deserve to know, and I'm ready to finally attempt to heal from this all. I don't want to be bitter toward you. I don't want to feel like I lost myself to you anymore.

I didnt try to rip anything from you;; i swear i did not,,and i wasnt trying to use u for designs or anything of that;; i wanted to be ur friend but everytime i tried to bring up similar interests i was shot down;; ill definitely need some time to myself after this as it has spiked trauma and anxiety, as it feels kinda icky as shes not even me anymore either;; that was,, to put it blunt,, ruined for me a few times now;; but i need a breather and time to think,, i care abt you tolds but if u didnt want to be my friend in the first place i would have rather u said so to me honestly;; cuz i wanted to be a friend,, i didnt really mirror u as i do have the same interests mainly,, so i never really understood,, i really need time to myself though cause i need to be happy during the holidays and ill admit this conversation has in ways hurt more than helped as my mental takes it mean as i am sensitive;; im not mad but id like to step away for awhile,, cuz if you noticed those things from me i wouldve rather you told me when they were happening,, im adhd and unmedicated,, and alot of things fly by my head,, if im not told right then gently then it gets scary for me later when it comes out,,;;;

And im not trying to make u loose yourself to me,, as i didnt even have a clue in the first place up till now;;,, if u need me to leave u alone i get that;; i just wish you wouldve told me sooner..

For now im gonna step back as im legit shaking and merely crying over all this and i kinda wanna be left alone TvT;;; i hope thats not mean its not badly intended just more so my mental is stressed far rn

There's more emotional manipulation here, with Sunny making the whole situation about herself. All she needed to do was admit she broke our agreement, change the traits, and we could have moved on. But instead, she refused to take responsibility and kept making me feel bad for bringing it up. She plays the friendly persona really well, and I kept giving her the benefit of the doubt, telling myself she didn't mean to hurt me. Looking back now, I realize her actions were more intentional than I initially thought.

Dec 7, 2022, 7:37 PM

And I ask one thing from you, as the original designer of Rocket. I ask if you will ping me if you decide to part with her. As she is probably one of the only designs I will have a hefty payout for.

I didn't HATE you, but I didn't understand what I was feeling. And it hurt me so much.

I was bitter, yes, but I was just under the ruse that it was all intentional or malicious towards me

- END OF 2022 INTERACTION -

2024 - 2025 / Present

This is where the scamming, slander, her manipulation of screenshots, and lies being spread about me comes in.

By November 2024, nearly three years after the initial sale of the design, I learned that Sunny had listed Rocket for sale again. During this period, I had been actively seeking to reclaim Kyberr, but eventually, I felt compelled to step away from Toyhouse and the furry community in general since at this point it had been 3 years and my connection to art was destroyed due to the situation.

Sunny never pinged me or notified me that she was selling Rocket, despite our agreement in 2022 that she would do so. I only became aware of it weeks after it had been listed when I was thinking about the Rocket situation again and decided to check Toyhouse out of curiosity. Seeing Rocket again caused significant emotional distress, as I remained deeply attached to the character, especially since I felt like I had lost Kyberr to her. I had desperately wanted Rocket back to reclaim Kyberr, so I could finally feel like I have her back, and restore the connection I had with her as well as with the furry community and art in general.

Sunny was well aware of this, as I had made a few attempts in 2023 and early 2024 to offer on her and inquire if she was going to be sold. (I think I reached out twice, once in 2023 and once in 2024.)
She knows how sentimental and meaningful this character was to me in general just shown in the screencaps above.

On October 18, 2024, Sunny listed the Rocket design for sale at $1,000 USD. The advertisement mentioned that the design included 2-3 VRChat avatars, which is relevant for later, as Sunny ultimately failed to deliver on that promise, using the avatars to inflate the price of the Rocket further.

The $1,000 USD price for Rocket was already significantly inflated, as much of the artwork she received for the design was gift art. Given the inclusion of the VRChat avatars and other factors, the design's value would have been closer to $450-$500 at most.

However, since I really wanted to get the design back, and to me, this was a chance to restore my love and passion for art as well as retrieve my truesona, I ended up going for it, and Sunny knew how much I wanted Rocket back.

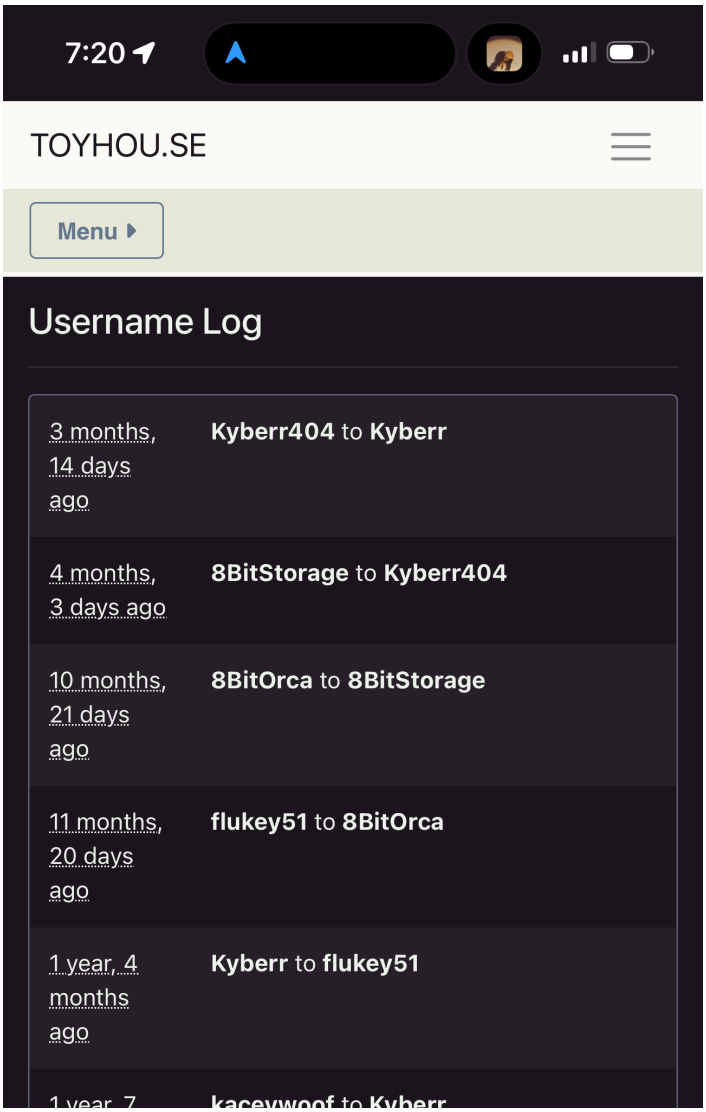
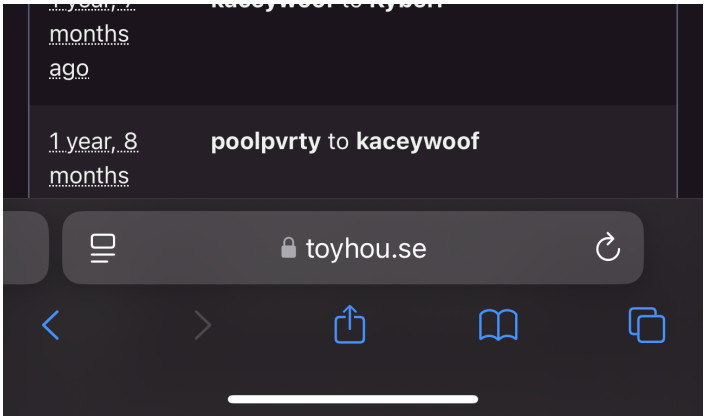
In the Toyhouse listing, it says the creator of Rocket is 8BitStorage. That was my username at the time, receipt below.





I reached out to Sunny to discuss purchasing Rocket. Sunny was aware of how strongly I felt about getting the original design back and knew that I would do anything to get her back, and I now believe she pressured me to achieve what she wanted.

She claimed she was about to go homeless and that other people had offered her $1,500 or $2,000 for the design and had 5 more offers on top of that. Fearing that she might accept a higher offer since she was about to go homeless and in that state, funds are extremely important, I felt pressured to act quickly. Sunny expressed that she was willing to move forward with my offer and decline the much higher offers of $1,500 USD and $2,000 USD if I provided a replacement design for Kyberr. She ended up asking for two replacement designs. I ended up going through with the transaction. In hindsight, I realize it was a poor decision to pay $1,000 USD, along with adding hundreds of dollars worth of art & OCs, just for her to end up with two extremely similar designs. That being said, I was so focused on recovering the original design that I didn't fully consider the implications of my actions at the time.

Sunny expressed a strong interest in an older Kyberr redesign I created, named "Kyriko," which I had distanced myself from due to emotional ties to past trauma. Despite having offers of $1,500 and $2,000, she told me she would accept my offer of $1,000 for Kyriko, along with art and other OCs. Though I was hesitant to part with them, she emphasized that Kyriko was the design she truly wanted. Given her financial struggles and potential homelessness, I felt pressured and ultimately agreed to sell Kyriko and another Kyberr design.

I made it clear that I didn't want to see the designs again, and she reassured me they would remain hidden. However, I began to doubt the legitimacy of her claims about the higher offers and her financial situation. If she truly needed funds, why would she accept $1,000 when $1,500 or $2,000 were on the table? After I sent the $1,000, Sunny claimed she could now make rent, but I later saw her spending large amounts on commissions, OCs, and other purchases.

I have receipts where Sunny claimed she could now make rent after receiving the $1,000 USD from me. However, shortly after, I saw her spending large amounts on OCs, art, and other items. For example, she bought a $350 OC in the same month she mentioned being close to homelessness. Then, just a month later, she reached out for advice on opening a credit line to buy two OCs totaling around $850. This doesn't include the other OCs and art she was purchasing during this time.

I also have the receipts of me sending the $1000 USD to Sunny - the $1000 USD was provided by my partner.

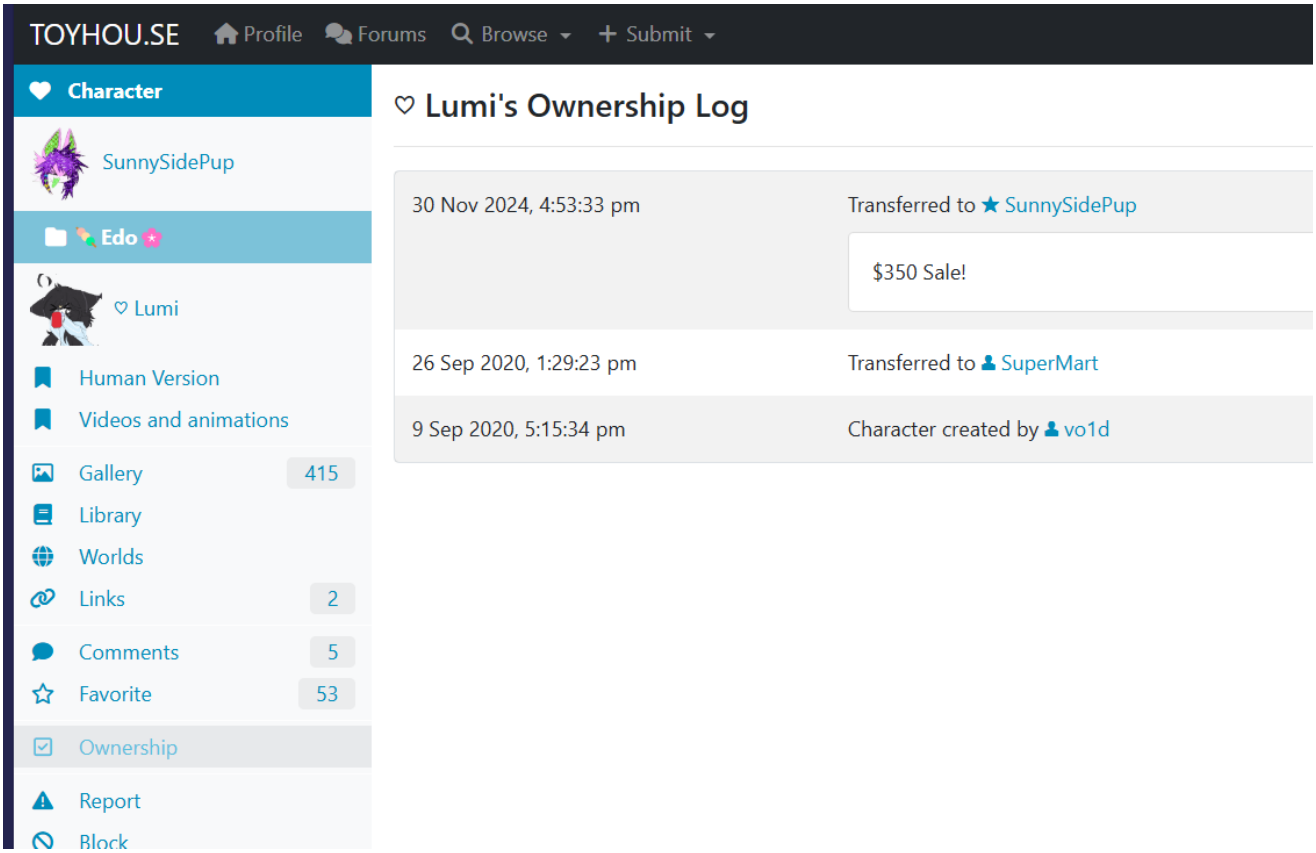
Receipts of Sunny purchasing OCs, some for up to hundreds of dollars, during the same month of the transaction + the following months after the transaction. These were all purchased by her despite claiming to be on the brink of homelessness. This is while she owed me the VRC avatars that I never received and she told me I would get compensation for, etc.



Sunny asking for advice on opening a credit line in December to buy two OCs forhundreds of dollars each, which is a month after claiming she was on the brink of homelessness. During this time she also owed me the VRC avatars that were promised from the sales listing of the Kyberr design I purchased back from her. She gave me excuses that we was not financially stable to uphold her part of the transaction, claiming that the mental hospital was eating her funds, etc.

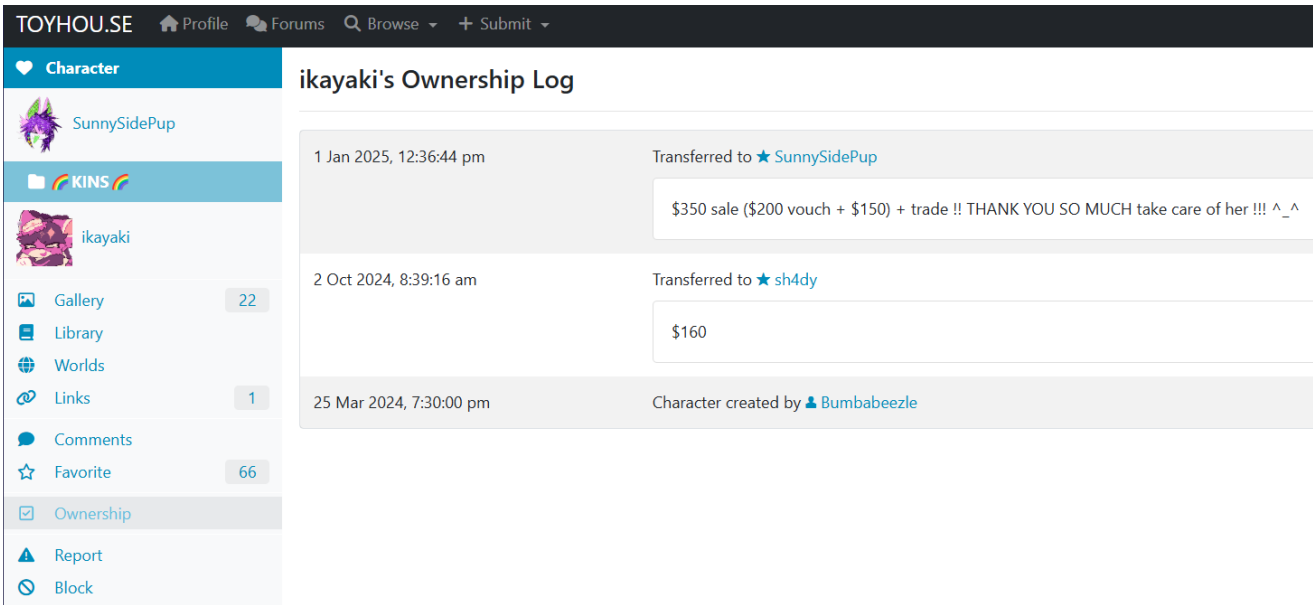
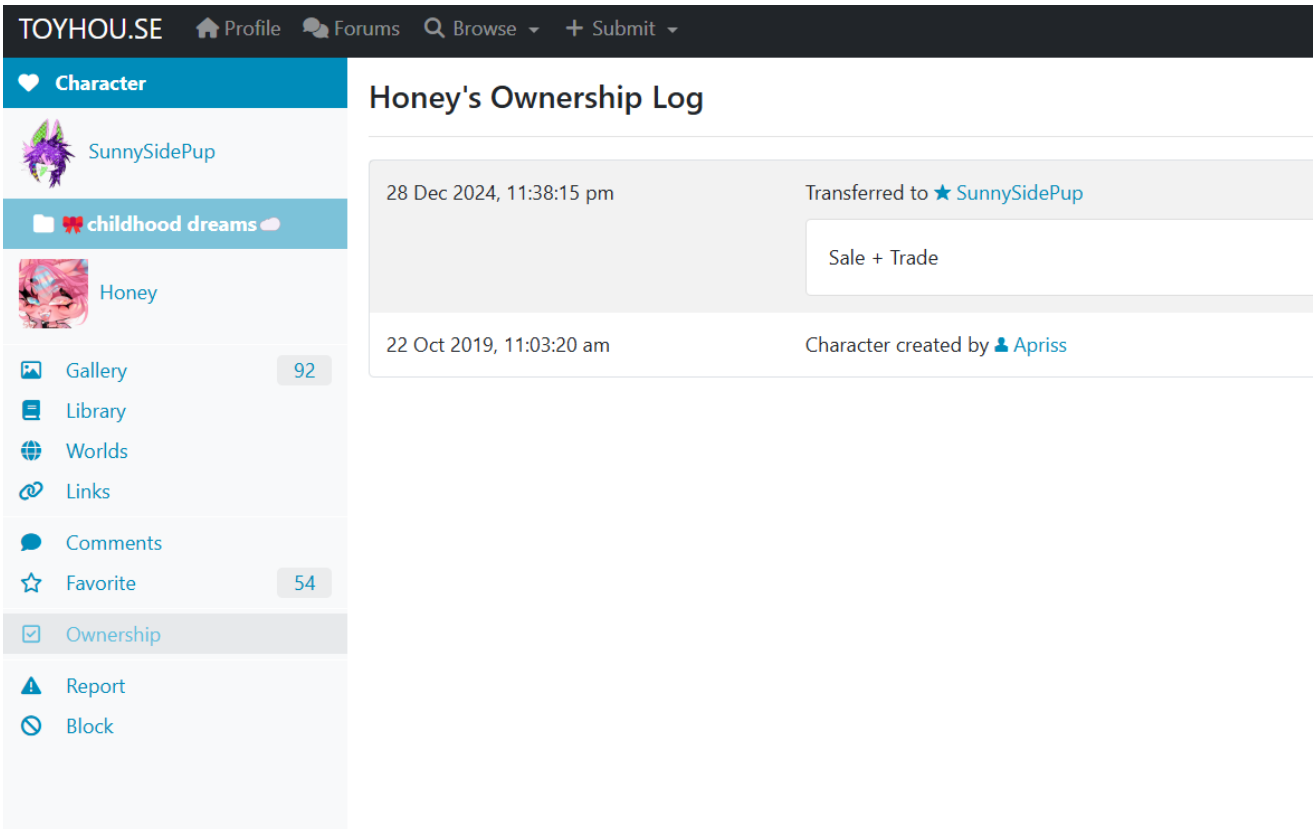
2/2 of the screenshot above. In the end, she ended up acquiring both of the designs via sale, which leads me to believe she did open the credit line to purchase the OCs, even though she claimed she was going to be homeless a month prior.



Proof of Purchase: Ikayaki



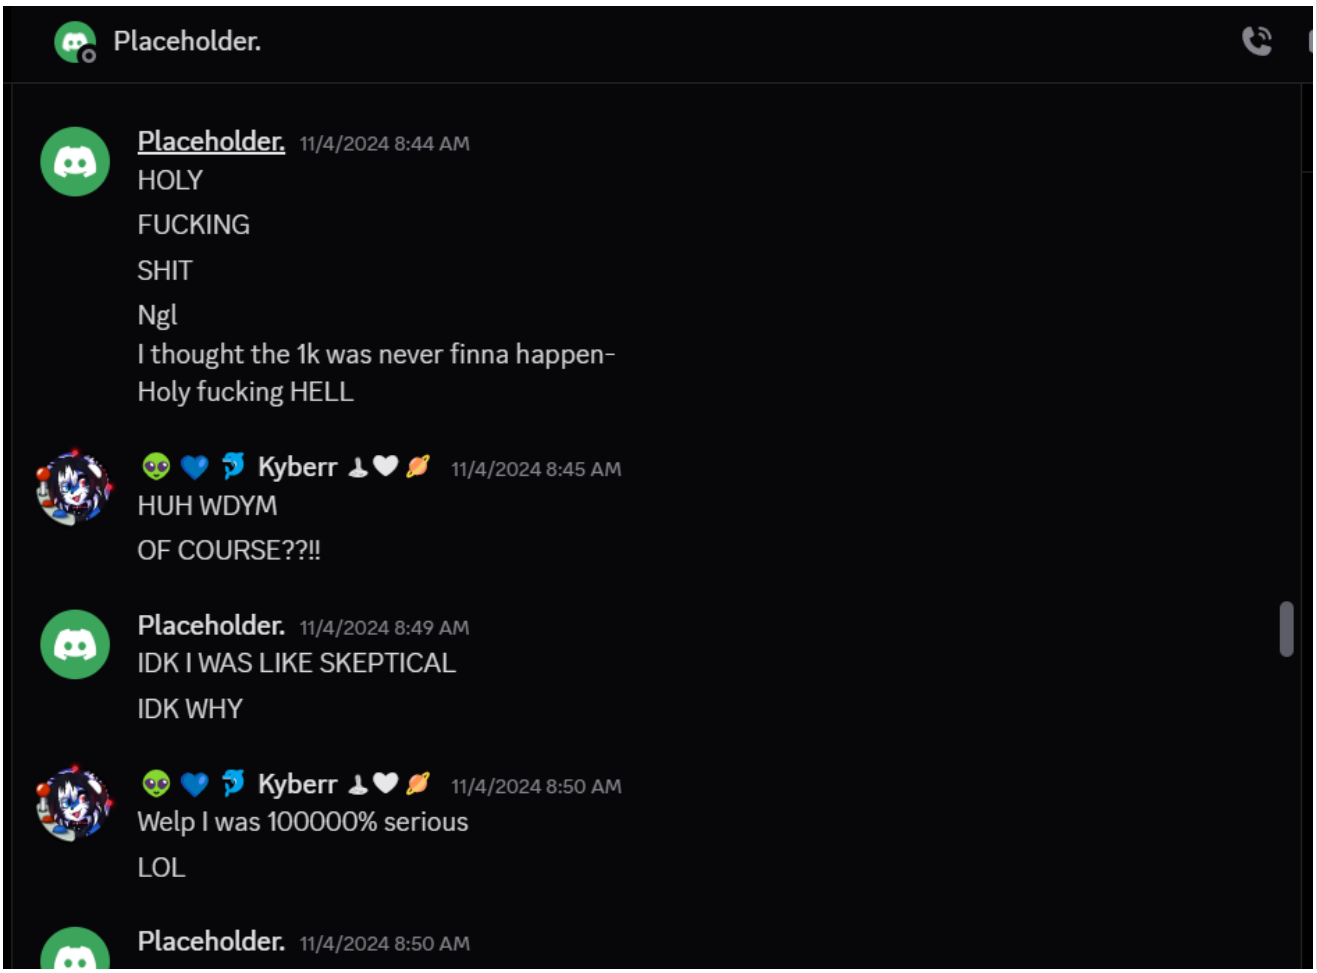
Proof of Purchase: Honey, which is the OC mentioned in the screenshots above of her asking for credit line advice. The transfer log does not mention how much she had spent on the sale, but I do believe it is the $500 she mentions above. (The OC is worth $1000 USD+) Obviously, these are not the only purchases Sunny has made in this time frame, as she had bought various other OCs and commissioned artwork. She also mentioned to me that she had commissioned a plush and fursuit for Kyriko.

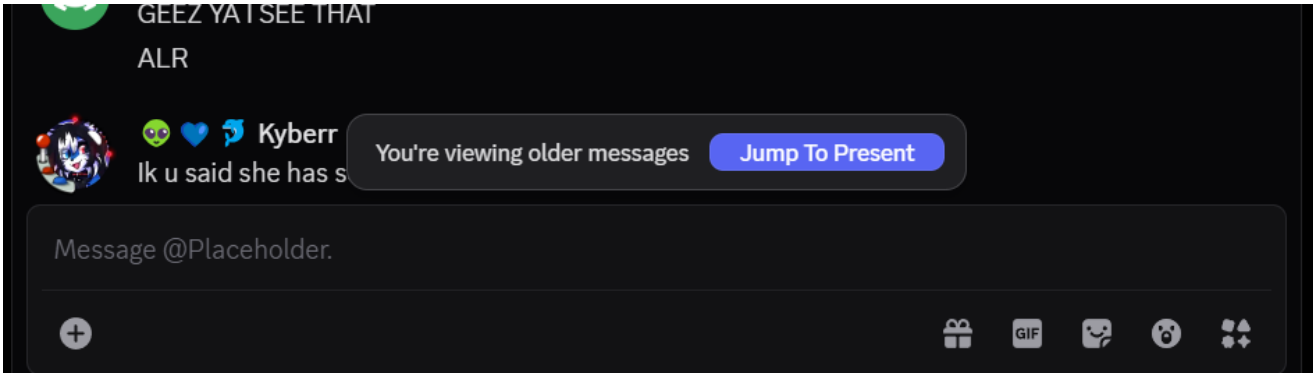
For me, this reinforces the belief that Sunny may have used her claims of being on the verge of homelessness, along with the mention of higher offers of $1.5k and $2k + 5 other offers, as a tactic to manipulate my emotions and achieve her desired outcome of getting the designs out of me. Especially with the knowledge of Sunny being aware of how badly I wanted the original design back.

Additionally, when we had initially sent her the $1,000 USD, she was surprised, telling me she didn't think I would actually follow through. This felt really off, especially since my offer was one of the lower ones, and it made me wonder if the other offers were ever real. It made me feel like I had been scammed, and later, this turned out to be true. She never provided the VRChat avatars that were promised for the original Kyberr design I bought back from her for $1,000, which she had heavily inflated the price for. Not to mention the worth was heavily inflated regardless as most of the art she got for the design were gifts given to her. I want to estimate that the reality of the worth of the design is around $450~$500 with the VRC avatars included. But like I said, I would do anything to get the design back, and Sunny knew this.

RECEIPT: Sunny expressing disbelief upon receiving the $1000 USD, even though it was one of the lower offers in comparison.

Toggle Spoiler





While many people may think it was silly to spend that much money on a bunch of pixels, I have already explained the emotional weight behind it. Getting the design back meant restoring balance to who I was—it was a way to reconnect with Kyberr, who I considered my truesona for over 10 years, a connection that I had thought was completely destroyed and lost. It also allowed me to rekindle my connection to art in general, something that had been lost after my fallout with the art community due to the 2021 situation. To be completely clear, Sunny was very aware of how sentimental Kyberr was to me and how much I wanted the design back. I feel that she may have used this to her advantage when we were making the transaction.

As for the two designs she wanted, I suggested making alterations to further differentiate them, such as modifying the hair. However, she declined these changes, and I ultimately proceeded with the design as requested. While some adjustments were made, I later realized they were insufficient to achieve the desired distinction that I had wanted. Nevertheless, I chose to move forward with the transaction.

Additionally, Sunny inflated the value of the original Kyberr design I was purchasing back from her by claiming that 2-3 VRChat avatars were attached to it, but this turned out not to be the case. The details surrounding the VRChat avatar situation will be outlined later.

While I did not explicitly state that the designs I provided should remain hidden, Sunny reassured me that they would "be hidden anyways" when I told her that I didn't want to see the designs again. To me, not seeing the designs implied that they would not be publicly posted everywhere, especially since we were mutuals and followed each other on social media. Her reassurance of keeping the designs private and hidden gave me peace of mind and made me comfortable proceeding with the transaction. Had I not been assured that the designs would remain private, by her very own word, I would not have agreed to the exchange. Her failure to honor her word left me feeling uncomfortable.

Here are screenshots of Sunny reassuring me that the designs would remain hidden regardless, which significantly eased my anxieties about giving her the two designs, Kyriko and the one she named 'Astral Comet. It is important to note I most likely would have not gone through with this transaction otherwise:

The reason I specifically wanted the designs to remain private was that they were direct previous attachments to my character, Kyberr. I did not want people to confuse the two or accuse either of us of plagiarism, as the designs were very closely tied to Kyberr's identity. The designs she has are also associated with the issue that I had with her in 2021 that comes up in this service review later. Keeping them private would have prevented such confusion. Here is a comparison of just two of my Kyberr designs that I own compared to the three that she currently has in her possession, so you can get an idea of why I was only comfortable giving the designs to her with her with the reassurance of her word that they would remain hidden.

You can see why I was uncomfortable with the designs being public (Design Comparison):

Toggle Spoiler

Top is 2 of the Kyberr designs I own, but there are a multitude of them that I own that you can view here: https://toyhou.se/Kyberr/characters/folder:6259982
On the bottom of the image, there are 3 of the designs that Sunny has in her possession.

When Sunny later made the designs public and repeatedly sent me art and WIPs of commissions related to the character via Discord DMs, it violated the term I had about not wanting to see the character again, and it expressed to me that she would not keep her word of having the designs hidden. This was not a case of me actively seeking out the character or reviewing her profile, and either way, she assured me she would have them listed as hidden—she initiated contact by sharing updates, which caused me discomfort. Initially, I did not assert myself because Sunny has a history of turning situations around, making the other person feel guilty or at fault when raising concerns. I feared that addressing the issue would result in further manipulation and emotional pressure. Although I felt uncomfortable, I initially refrained from speaking up, as Sunny appeared kind, and I did not want to jeopardize that dynamic. Instead, I responded by complimenting the WIPs she sent. Additionally, I took on a commission of one of the designs, Kyriko.

Eventually, my discomfort grew increasingly as she was using Kyriko as her main mascot and truesona very publicly, commissioning logos for her, planning to stream with her on Twitch, etc. despite telling me that she would have the designs hidden anyways. It reminded me of the 2021 situation. I addressed the issue, offering two solutions—either the designs remain hidden as she had stated and reassured me that they would, or they could stay public with minor alterations to differentiate them further from my character (such as a hair color adjustment or other modifications). While I understood that she was not obligated to make changes, I firmly believe that Sunny going back on her word regarding the designs' privacy warranted a discussion about a reasonable resolution.

Despite my efforts to handle the situation civilly, tensions escalated, and the dispute ultimately led to me voicing my frustrations after nearly four years on-and-off of dealing with repeated dishonesty and manipulation from this individual. I acknowledge that I had moments where I acted out in emotion due to her going back on her word and having countless empty promises from the past. At present, her word of the designs being hidden are being upheld, and the designs remain hidden — thankfully.

I understand now that I did not have to ask for a design change on her part, since in the end I did agree to the transaction. But in my defense, she had made them very public despite reassuring me they would be hidden. I want to stress that my request for a design modification—though unnecessary, given that I had already approved the transaction—does not equate to the repeated instances of dishonesty, emotional manipulation, gaslighting, and other concerning behaviors exhibited by Sunny.

Scamming: The VRChat Avatar Situation

(While I consider the situation resolved, this is still considered a scam, as the advertised items were never provided and did not even exist at the time of sale.)

Sunny misrepresented the worth of Rocket by falsely advertising that the purchase included 2–3 VRChat avatars. After my partner paid $1,000 USD upfront, along with additional OCs (including Kyriko and Astral Comet) and multiple pieces of artwork all totalling to the worth of a couple hundreds of dollars, Sunny disclosed that the avatars' files had been deleted. Rocket's price had been heavily inflated under the premise that these avatars were included. She did not tell me until after we sent the money that her avatar files were no longer in her possession.

At first, I accepted that the avatars were lost and was willing to move forward without them because Sunny suggested I clone the avatars from her account, which made me extremely uncomfortable for several reasons:

1. She still had them in her possession.
2. She could delete them at any time, revoking my access.
3. Cloning requires making the avatar public, exposing it to unauthorized use.

After discussing the situation with my partner, who funded the purchase, I realized this was unacceptable and approached Sunny in a civil manner to resolve the issue. Me and Sunny agreed that, instead of the promised 2–3 avatars, she would provide a single custom avatar in return. However, this led to four months of follow-ups met with repeated delays and excuses—primarily citing financial hardship due to "mental hospital eating her funds"—despite her commissioning personal artwork, including from me, and purchasing additional OCs.

Only after I casually mentioned small claims court in passing did she finally deliver an avatar within hours—four months after the initial transaction. However, the avatar was broken, with most toggles non-functional. I spoke to the VRChat avatar creator and Sunny had frustrated her and was very unclear with the communication between us for the avatar. I am currently attempting to fix it myself. It is still completely broken.

Throughout this process, I remained professional, patient, and understanding. Despite this, Sunny falsely claimed to her partners that I was giving her "hell" and maliciously threatening legal action. I will provide receipts showing that I never harassed or badgered her—only periodically checking in for updates.

Here are screenshots of the avatars that were advertised but never received. Sunny mentioned 2–3 avatars, though I have never seen proof of a third:

Below are screenshots and receipts documenting the entire VRChat transaction and related communications, including the avatar I ended up receiving:

I saw your bulletin on Toyhouse, is it true? You're leaving the oc community? If that's the case, would I be able to get my files before then?
My boyfriend is worried because he paid and Kyberr as a character, what was given to me does not add up to the $1000 since it's missing 2-3 vrchat avatars + additional art that was promised
Placeholder. 11/15/2024 2:43 PM
Sorry had a breakdown, ill dm u in a bit TvT
Ill get everything sent accordingly when i find it all
The avatars i mayyy have i just have to go digging through TvT
Kyberr 11/15/2024 2:45 PM
No worries, take your time, when can you get the files sent? My boyfriend is getting pretty worried and wants to make sure I have everything that was promised in the sales listing, otherwise he would want a partial refund >_<
Placeholder. 11/15/2024 2:46 PM
Absolutely no worries uvu
I can do it roughly within a week or two i have a lot of dms to go thru 😭
I can still provide the avis just cloned, i havent gotten on vrchats website to remove them i can make em public n u could clone em from there, a friend also said he may have a way to get them off my acc and onto urs somehow uvu
So im hoping with all the progress hes making itll work 😭
Kyberr 11/15/2024 2:47 PM
The cloning thing just makes me a lil uncomfortable because it technically wouldn't be my avatar and you would still have access to it
Placeholder. 11/15/2024 2:47 PM
No worries uvu we are working on alternative ways to get em off lolol
Kyberr 11/15/2024 2:48 PM
Yes, thank you very much
Placeholder. 11/15/2024 2:48 PM

I am still sorta looking for the old ones aswell
Im just tryna get into the (now hacked) account they should be on
But either way if i find it ALL YOURS
And u still get the brand new one :3
Besides the person who made rocket said that they would LOVE to revamp anyways since its an older work of theirs ^v^
I already asked them and everrything lol i just need to know what kinda toggles if u want glitter if u wand extra additional things, if u want anything specially modeled for you etc! ^^
So take ur time and lmk what you're thinkin ^v^
Kyberr 1/18/2025 12:37 PM
Thank you! That means a lot! I am mainly interested in the new avatar as it would be updated to her mini redesign - and I want to add stuff on like accessories like maybe an outfit / 3d glasses / orca plush and gogo-loco, stuff like that - so if you can't find the old avatars no worries.
Placeholder. 1/18/2025 12:38 PM
Yeah all that is like easy BWAHAHA
Kyberr 1/18/2025 12:38 PM
I'd also love to see some of their work too if possible, so I can show them examples of what I like from their work - or I can just send screenshots of other avatars that have things that I like!
Placeholder. 1/18/2025 12:38 PM

Okay, we need to set a deadline because my bf is getting upset about it since he spent 1k, and on top of that I gave you art and ocs worth a couple hundred
And it's been 4 months since the transaction, the original sales post said there was 2-3 vrc avatars promised
So it needs to happen soon and I think you need to prioritize this over commissioning things for yourself if possible

After I mentioned small claims in passing, the avatar was done within a few hours. By the way, I didn't even give Sunny the reference I want to be used. She already sent a reference to her friend who was making the VRC avatar even though it wasn't completed and I didn't approve that it was the correct reference sheet. This shows me she is trying to rush the process.

Finished product. I was not sent any WIP updates of how the face and the hair looked or the final product looked all-together.

I told her I was unhappy with the product and I didn't receive any clear WIP photos of how it looked before it was all finalized and sent to me.
I included the pictures of the old avatar that was originally promised in the sales post but I never received.

I asked the VRC avatar creator about it, and unfortunately Sunny lied to her and was frustrating her and it made her work suffer.
This is true, as the creator has a lot of great avatars she has made, but due to the back and forth and the lies sent to her, it made the situation difficult.

damn lowkey i wish i was sent wip photos before it was finalized im gonna put it in vrc but im not really a fan of how it looks im gonna see what it looks like in game first before i make an opinion but for now i really dont like the hair
I think it wouldve been better if I had visual WIPs before it was finalized cuz they did all this work and im not really happy with the product

It is the same base the only difference is the eyes as they were done by my sister
The hair style is the same too
Kyberr 3/10/2025 6:49 PM
I know its the same base but its the execution of the hair I think
I'm downloading unity so I will see how it looks in game so I can give you my opinion
Because I don't think I can make a fair opinion just by the references alone
Kinda wish I got it done on the maruchi
But I didn't know to change my mind since I didn't get real wips for the face and stuff
Placeholder. 3/10/2025 6:52 PM
Im unsure;; rocket was done on the same thing, maybe its the design difference?
Kyberr 3/10/2025 6:52 PM
I don't think its the design difference
Like I said I'll put it in VRC and tell you how I feel, but I wish I got progress photos cuz now it sucks on both ends if I'm not happy with it and then time was spent working on it lol
But I definitely want a product that I am happy with, considering I was promised 2-3 avatars initially. So, if I'm going to get only one, I want one that I am happy with
Placeholder. 3/10/2025 6:57 PM

This is the end of the situation.

Here is a screenshot of Sunny's partner falsely claiming that I gave Sunny 'hell' over the VRChat avatars and maliciously threatened legal action, despite my consistent patience, professionalism, and understanding throughout the four-month process:

For context on the prior messages. King is talking about me asking Sunny about a design change, the situation described above.

Final Update on the VRC Situation: While I no longer wish to engage with Sunny or her affiliates, and I consider the VRC situation "resolved" for the sake of moving on, this remains a clear case of misrepresentation and false advertising. The promised avatars were never delivered as advertised, and the final product did not meet the agreed-upon terms.

Unethical Conduct & Avoidance: Manipulated others by twisting words, misrepresenting timestamps, and sending out-of-context screenshots to her partners instead of handling disputes directly. She falsely claimed I altered my TOS out of spite after posting a PNGTuber and misrepresented timestamps to her partners, despite the fact that I had pushed out the TOS update to all my subscribers before she uploaded the PNGTuber avatar. To which she was subscribed at the time. She refused civil discussions, employed guilt tactics, and even privately threatened further TOS violations to her partners.

Creating False Lies, Twisting My Words, Misrepresentation of Facts, etc:

Sunny manipulated others by twisting my words, misrepresenting timestamps, and providing out-of-context screenshots to her partners instead of addressing disputes directly. She falsely claimed I altered my TOS out of spite after she posted a PNGTuber avatar and misrepresented timestamps to her partners. In reality, my TOS update had been pushed to all subscribers before she uploaded the PNGTuber, and she was subscribed at the time.

She refused civil discussions, used guilt tactics, and privately threatened further TOS violations to her partners.

I have permission from Perceptor (TrueViA) (Sunny's now ex-partner, was partnered with at the time of screenshots provided) to share these messages. In the screenshots between him and Sunny, there are unsavory comments about me, as he was initially misled by Sunny's false claims while defending his partner at the time. However, Perceptor has since apologized for these remarks, so please disregard them.

Perceptor, now Sunny's ex-partner, later came forward to clarify the situation. When I explained the avatar dispute, he revealed that Sunny had misled him into believing she only owed me the avatars for two months, when in reality, she had owed them to me for four months—since November 4, 2025.

Here are receipts of my conversation with Perceptor, where I explained the VRChat situation. These messages also show his disbelief upon realizing he had been misled, as Sunny had provided him with false information:

Perceptor confronted Sunny's partner group chat. At the time, she had five partners, as she is polyamorous, and they all shared a group chat together. It's important to note that while they were all partners of Sunny, they were not all partnered with each other. Here are receipts from that groupchat conversation. King-AngelSixx is Sunny's other partner. Due to the situation, he changed his name to Celtic_W0lf:

King-AngelSixx (Sunny's other partner) still believes I intended to sue Sunny over the VRChat avatars, despite the fact that I never made such a threat. Small claims court was mentioned only in passing after four months of delays, as the promised product had still not been delivered.
After receiving the avatar, I did not pursue legal action further and considered the matter resolved.

King asserts that I 'can't do shit,' but if $1,000 USD was paid and false advertising occurred, that raises legitimate concerns and could be disputed. However, it ultimately didn't matter to me as I had no intention of suing.

King continues to defend Sunny, regardless of her being in the wrong, and seems to believe that one should only prioritize their partner and disregard legal matters.

(NEW) Sunny Spreading Lies and False Accusations Regarding the VRC Avatar Situation

Added March 21, 2025
Screenshots provided by Perceptor (TrueViA) with consent

I recently received new information and screenshots of Sunny's conversations with her friends and partners regarding the VRChat avatar situation.

First, she falsely claimed that she had to spend over $200+ USD on a custom avatar for me. Screenshots from her friend—the avatar creator of the avatar—prove otherwise, and she had only spent $100 USD.

Sunny has also been telling people that I'm threatening to sue her and that I am harassing her over this situation, which isn't true. The screenshots above clearly show that I mentioned small claims court once in passing, and I even reassured her that I wasn't making a threat. Even if I had pursued small claims, it would've been a completely valid response.

To put this into perspective: Imagine someone selling a PS5 advertised as coming with 100 games for $1,000 USD. That price makes sense, considering a PS5 alone costs around $450–$500 USD and most AAA games are $60+ USD each. Now, imagine paying for that, only to receive just the console—no games. When you confront the seller, they claim they "lost" the games and can't provide them anymore.

Most people would immediately request a chargeback, flag the listing, or even take legal action over losing $1,000.

But in my case, I was understanding and willing to compromise, agreeing to wait for a custom instead. Sunny dragged the situation out for four months, claiming she was "too broke" to fix it—yet during that time, she was spending tons of money on OCs, artwork, and even a fursuit. Even when she made her excuses, as seen in the evidence I provided, I was understanding and gave her plenty of time despite her telling me different deadlines.

Now, she's spreading lies about me. The screenshots below come from Sunny's ex-partner, Perceptor (TrueViA), who was with her at the time and provided these messages. More screenshots from Perceptor are also included above.

Not only is she lying about the avatar situation, but she's also telling people that I've been "making posts about her"—which isn't true at all. This PSA is the first and only post I've made about her. The only posts that I have made referring to the Kyberr situation is me mentioning in a bulletin that I regret selling an old sona, which does not disclose anything about Kyberr or who I sold it to, nor does it mention any resentment towards the individual I sold said sona to, and those bulletins are still on my profile.

She's also claiming that I accused her of "personality stealing" and claims the reason why I accused her of such is because Sunny said "Damn, we have so much in common! It's like we are each other's doppelgangers!" ... But what she's hiding is the fact that she actually copied Kyberr's reference sheet. I kindly told her that it made me uncomfortable, and that she broke our terms, and she guilted me and refused to make real changes, yet now she's twisting the story to make it seem like I'm making baseless accusations.

Sunny refuses to provide receipts to anyone unless they are completely ripped out of context and used toleverage her lies about me, while I am the only one willing to share our actual conversations over the years. She has nothing but her word, while I have the truth to back me up.

On top of all of this, she has even gone as far as slandering me to random Toyhouse users, warning them about me with no evidence to support her claims.

But I'm done staying silent. I'm here to put the truth out on display.

Sunny is also claiming to others that she is afraid of me and that I "made her life a living hell for 3 years straight" over the Kyberr situation. This is completely false.

I never harassed her. I never threw insults at her. The only thing I've ever done is confront her when she broke my terms multiple times after I trusted her. I told her how it made me feel and gave her the chance to make things right. Over the years, I have done nothing but try to resolve issues and communicate my feelings. I only finally gave her my true piece of mind a little over a week ago when I decided I was done with the lies, which is what warranted this PSA in the first place.

Despite all of this, she refuses to provide any receipts to anybody she is sharing this situation with while continuing to spread lies. Meanwhile, I am the only one willing to share our actual conversations from over the years. She has nothing but her word, while I have the truth to back me up.

Here are the screenshots of lies Sunny is spreading about theVRChat situation as well as the creator of the custom avatar I received) statement on the situation. All of this has been debunked with my receipts in the section above:

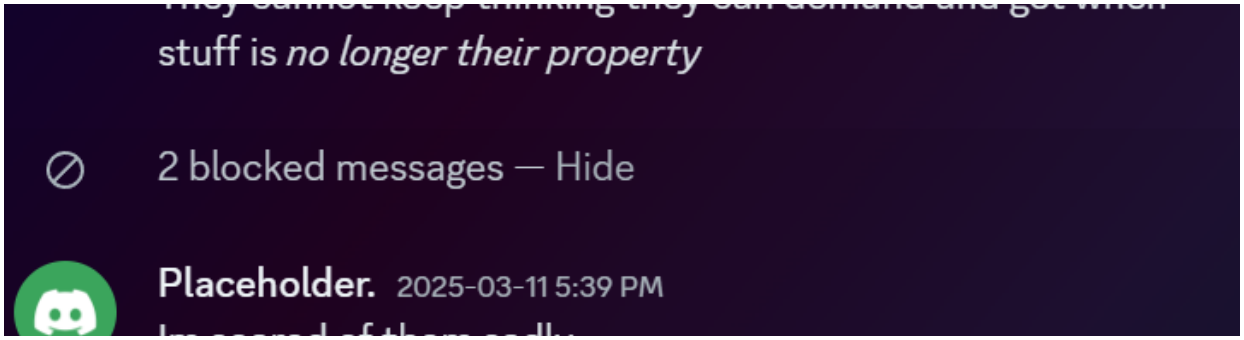
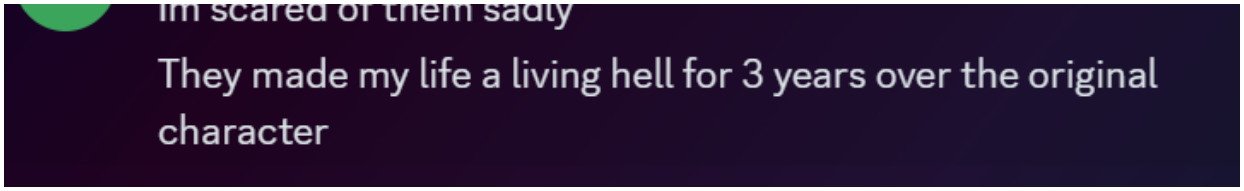
Sunny telling people that she is afraid of me and that I made her life a living hell, when all I have ever done is point out her breaking my term of keeping Rocket and Kyberr completely separate characters with unique personality traits and that she made me uncomfortable for doing so.





That is all on the VRChat situation. There was another instance where Sunny lied to her partners and twisted my words. I updated my T.O.S. on March 6th, 2025, at 11:56 AM. While the T.O.S. remained largely the same, I added further clarification regarding prohibited commercial usage. Commercial usage was always prohibited, but I wanted to include very clear definitions on what was permitted and what was not permitted.

In my T.O.S regarding commercial usage, I have that using my designs and artwork on streaming platforms such as Twitch, YouTube, or Kick—regardless of whether the streams are monetized—is considered commercial usage. This is because broadcasting my artwork and designs to a live audience can contribute to the success of the brand or channel hosting it.

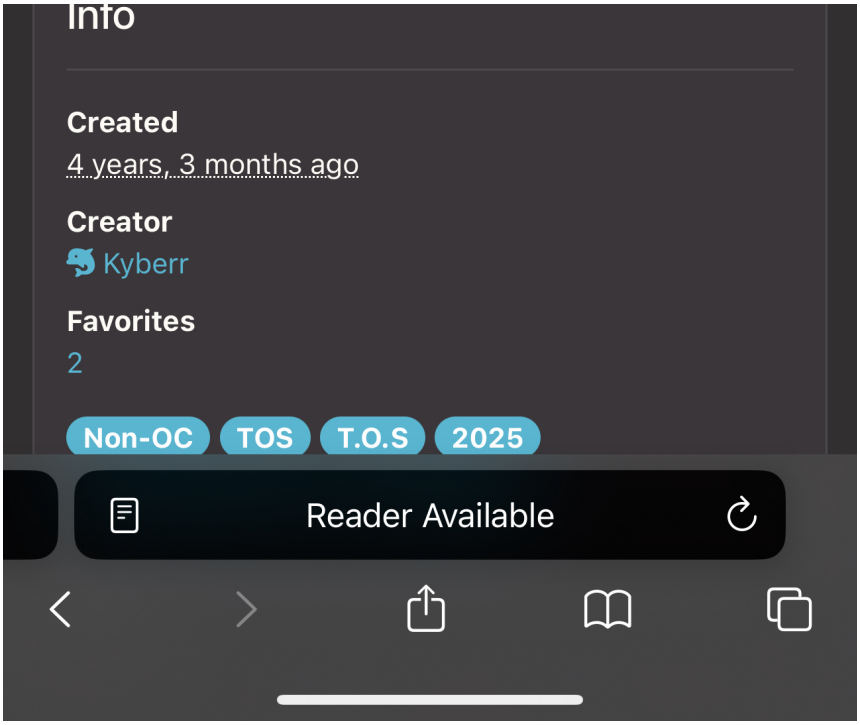
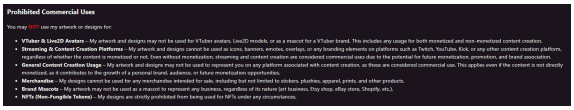
Design T.O.S + Blacklist was edited at 6 Mar 2025, 11:56:02 am:
IMPORTANT: DESIGN T.O.S UPDATED MARCH 6, 2025. This applies to all designs made by me regardless of creation date. LAST UPDATE: JANUARY 21, 2022. T.O.S has been thoroughly refined and changes have been made. Changelog is available as well.
KYBERR
Design T.O.S + Blacklist
Kyberr





Sunny posted a PNGTuber avatar of the design I had given her, Kyriko, hours after I updated my T.O.S with clarifications.

On the T.O.S matter, I did not change or alter any existing rules—everything that was in place before remains the same. Sunny has always been aware of my T.O.S as she has been buying my designs since 2021. I am very clear on what is updated/changed/clarified in my T.O.S, and I have included a changelog in my T.O.S as well. The only actual changes made were:

1. Adding a restriction on AI art usage, I did not have this in my T.O.S then, since my last update was in 2022 - before AI art became a widespread issue.
2. Adding a section specifying that certain designs cannot have commercial rights purchased. (Either way, I have the right to refuse service to anybody who wants to purchase commercial rights to my designs.)

Even before these clarifications, commercial usage was always forbidden, and I have always had the right to refuse anyone the ability to purchase commercial rights for any design. The updates were purely for clarity, not to retroactively enforce new rules. The mention of streaming, brand mascots, and similar commercial uses was not a new restriction—it was simply spelled out more explicitly to avoid any misunderstandings. Using my art and designs to stream to an audience and to build an identity on such platforms is considered commercial usage regardless if the content is monetized or not as it still contributes to the success of the channel, brand, and following.

Sunny's PNGTuber was posted after this clarification, but that doesn't change the fact that commercial use was never allowed to begin with. While I understand how the timing might seem off, the fundamental rule itself did not change - and the T.O.S clarification was not added after the avatar was made. Sunny was relieved when I told her she can still use the PNGTuber avatar in private Discord calls with friends and what not.

Here is a screenshot showing that Sunny posted the PNGTuber at 4:19:13 PM PST. I pushed out my T.O.S. update with the timestamp of March 6, 2025, at 11:56:03 AM PST. Despite her claims in the screenshots below that I changed and pushed an update to my T.O.S. after this time, the update was already sent to all of my subscribers well before her post. At the time, she was subscribed to me, we were mutuals.

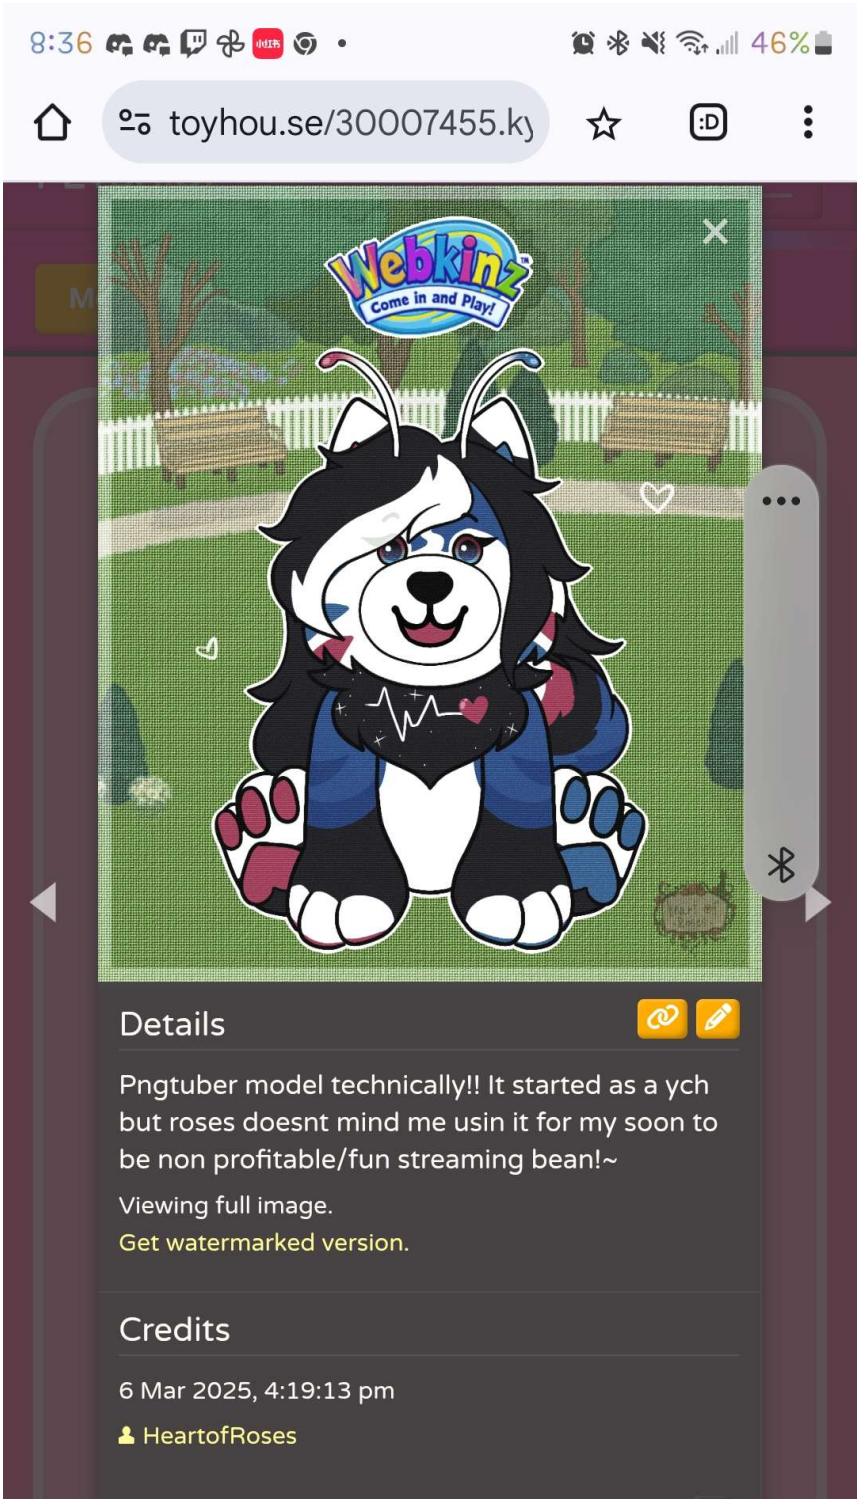
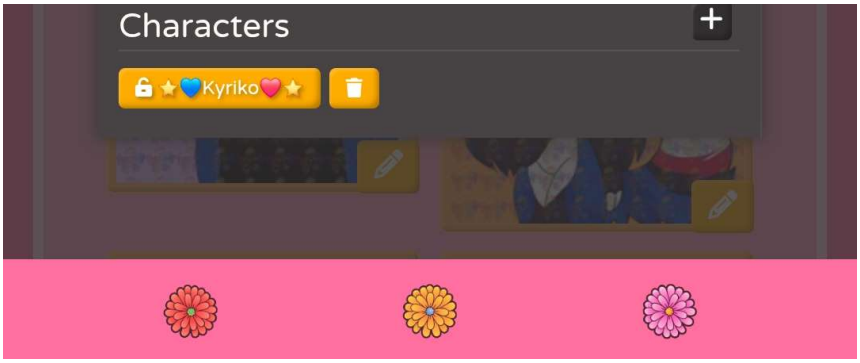
I personally messaged her after this timestamp to inform her of the T.O.S. update, but she had already received it. In the caption of the PNGTuber, she specifically mentioned it as a 'non-profit stream avatar.' This statement is unnecessary unless she was aware that I do not permit streaming with my designs for commercial usage for streaming. Her actions and wording don't align with her claims, and I confronted her directly to reiterate that I do not allow streaming with my artwork under any circumstances.

Toggle Spoiler





When I saw that she had uploaded the PNGTuber avatar, I reached out to her directly via Discord to inform her of the T.O.S. update, advising her not to use the design for streaming on platforms like Twitch. I also reiterated that it was never allowed as it it considered commercial usage.
I told her that it was completely okay to use the PNGTuber for streaming with friends on private streams such as on Discord, and she was okay with that.
Despite this, she lied to her partners, misrepresenting the timestamps and falsely claiming I changed my T.O.S. after the fact.

Here are receipts of Sunny messaging her then-partner, Perceptor, regarding the situation. In these messages, she lies and manipulates screenshots and timestamps to misrepresent the facts of the situation:

Sunny claims that she did not agree to my T.O.S and she proceeds to show screenshots of JUST the additional personal terms I added to Kyriko. She completely left out the fact that I remind her of my General T.O.S immediately after I sent the personal terms to her.

All of my designs are subject to my general T.O.S., not just the personal terms I outlined in the message for Kyriko. Both my general T.O.S. and any specific personal terms are included in the ownership tab of all my designs. My general T.O.S. has been present in the ownership section for all of my designs for years, I reminded her of that through text, and I emphasized my T.O.S and Sunny's attempt to imply that the personal terms for Kyriko are the only applicable terms is misleading.

A longer screenshot of the messages she took out of context:

Immediately following the out of context screenshot she sent Perceptor above, which she did not show to her partners, I informed her about my general T.O.S. and notified her that it is available in the ownership tab. Therefore, she was aware of my general T.O.S. at the time. Commercial usage of my designs has always been prohibited, a policy that has remained unchanged in my T.O.S.

Even if I didn't have prohibition of commercial usage listed in my T.O.S, she still does not retain those rights. In the United States where me and Sunny reside, commercial rights must be explicitly stated, and cannot legally be assumed.

The recent update was intended to clarify and expand on the rights buyers have to my designs, with a focus on further defining what constitutes prohibited commercial usage. Also, Sunny has been buying OCs from me for years, she has always been aware of my General T.O.S.

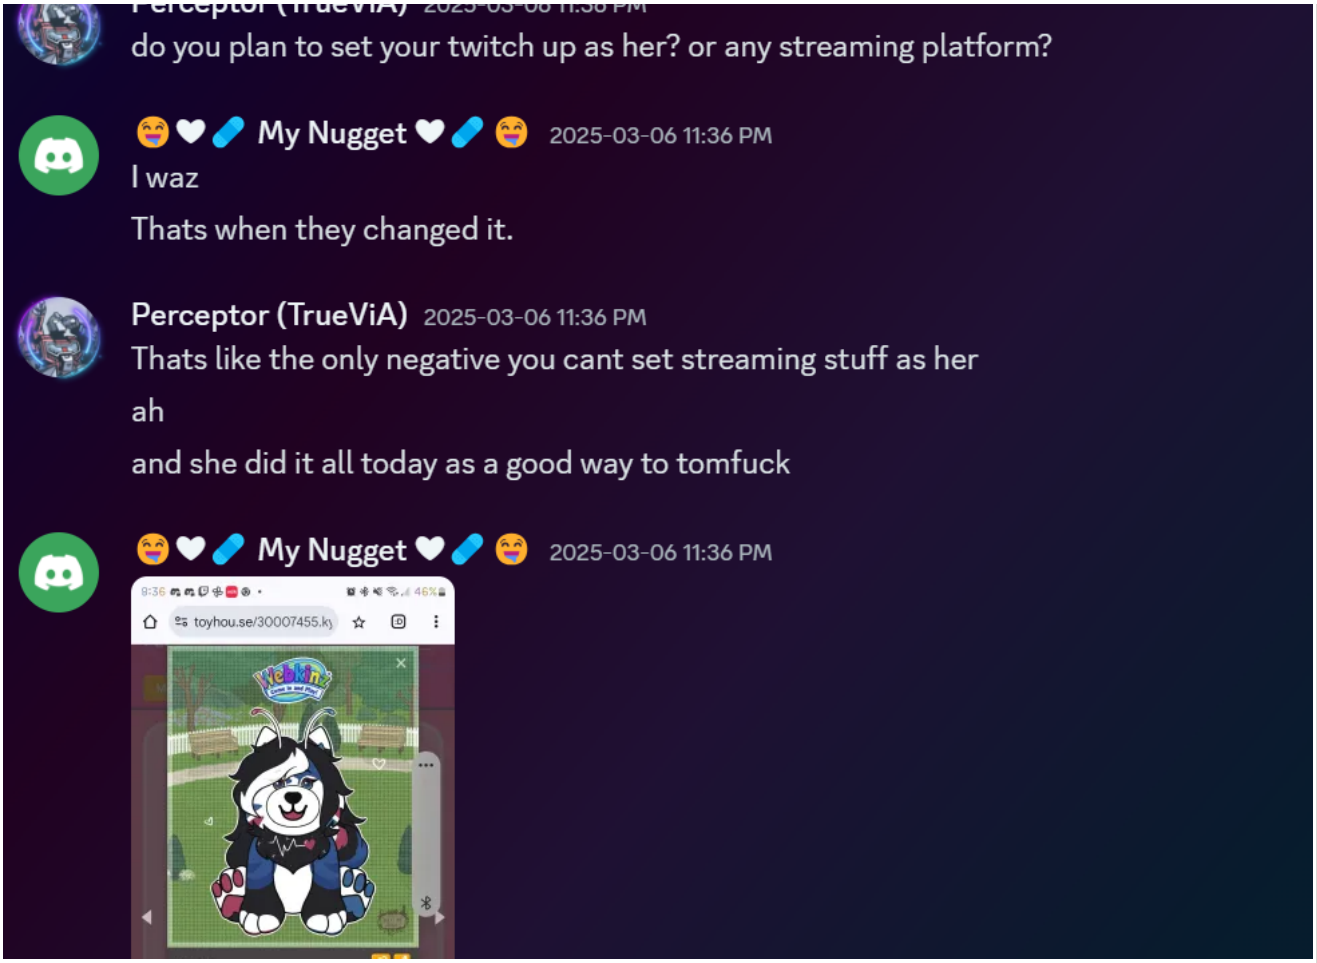
Her claiming that I changed my T.O.S after the PNGTuber was uploaded.



do you plan to set your twitch up as her? or any streaming platform?
My Nugget 2025-03-06 11:36 PM
I waz
Thats when they changed it.
Perceptor (TrueViA) 2025-03-06 11:36 PM
Thats like the only negative you cant set streaming stuff as her ah
and she did it all today as a good way to tomfuck

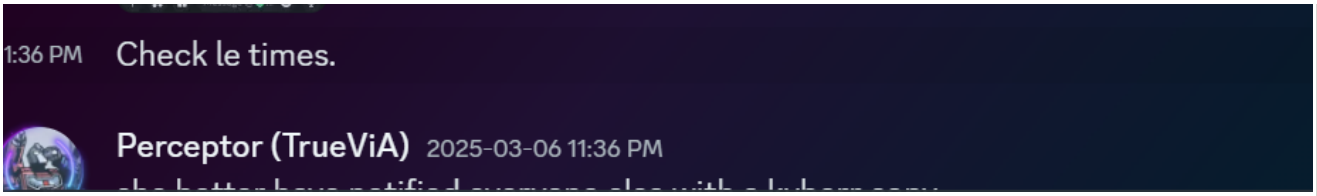
What would it be effectin!?
Kyberr
Commercial usage!
KYRIKO
Ah i aint gonna use em for cash uvu
Merch nothin
Kyberr
Ok! That includes branding for twitch/ kick/ other platforms
My designs are prohibited to be used for streaming
KYRIKO
Even if its like not monetized??
Kyberr
Regardless if money is made from said platforms
Yes
Because they are commercial platforms
KYRIKO
Are they making money off of it? Is that why??
Kyberr
I would read through my tos to get a clear understanding



Since I removed Sunny as a subscriber and blocked her IP this morning, I will provide proof that she did receive live updates whenever I uploaded or edited characters on Toyhouse, including my T.O.S. At the time, we were mutuals, both subscribed to each other on Toyhouse. On March 2, 2025, at 5:30 PM, she made an offer on a design I had posted just two minutes prior, at 5:28 PM. There is no possible way for her to have known about the post unless she was subscribed to me or actively refreshing my profile, which she was. She had not messaged me for hours before making this offer.

Receipts of her offering on a design 2 minutes after I posted it:

TL;DR

Seraph's Testimony:

Scamming out of 120 OCs, Breaking Boundaries Regarding Trauma, Emotional Manipulation, Breaching T.O.S, and more

Sunny repeatedly manipulated and took advantage of Seraph, scamming them out of over 120 OCs, breaking agreements, and ignoring clear repeated boundaries. She promised to return characters but instead held them hostage, used them in her stories, made edits, and traded some away behind Seraph's back. She pressured Seraph to talk about their trauma and even tried to get them to hand over characters tied to their grooming. She also disrespected Seraph's TOS by watermarking their art—including pieces by their groomer—after being explicitly told not to. She befriended minors (ages 15-16) just to obtain their OCs and used their past sonas against them. Sunny also encouraged breaking another artist's TOS by separating a character into two, only offering Seraph co-ownership instead of fully returning what was agreed upon. Throughout all of this, she manipulated situations to make herself seem like the victim while using Seraph for OCs, social connections, and emotional support. Additionally, Sunny knowingly took possession of an OC that had been stolen from Seraph, despite agreeing to help return it to its rightful owner. She then made disturbing edits (depicting the character menstruating) to past artwork (without the original artist - kittyglitter's consent) associated with the character, made jokes about it, and repeatedly disregarded Seraph's clear request not to be shown images of it, further violating their boundaries.

Kyberr's Testimony:

Scamming out of a $1000 USD Transaction, Emotional Manipulation, Repeatedly Breaking Boundaries, Breaching T.O.S, Emotional Manipulation

Sunny pressured me into selling my truesona, Kyberr, despite knowing how deeply sentimental it was to me, as she was my first fursona since I was 13. Due to financial struggles, I reluctantly accepted her offers under the extremely strict condition that Kyberr and her new character, Rocket, remain separate with different traits, personality, etc. Sunny broke this agreement by carbon copying Kyberr's identity—down to my sexuality, age, interests, and personal traits—into Rocket. She also purchased another old sona of mine, Shachi, and violated both my and a coder's TOS by restoring my personal info (with things including my legal birthdate) on the character's profile for over a year despite me deleting the code and telling her not to use the same traits.

Her actions caused me years of emotional distress, leaving me feeling disconnected from Kyberr, which led to me taking a long hiatus from art and the furry community. When I confronted her, she denied any wrongdoing, gaslit me, and manipulated the situation to make herself seem like the victim. I eventually repurchased Kyberr, but the psychological impact of the situation lasted for years.

In 2022, after a period of no contact stemming from the original violation, I reconnected with Sunny and explained that I had been redesigning Kyberr to distance myself from Rocket's design. Sunny promised to notify me if she ever decided to sell Rocket, but she never did. Despite our conversation, she didn't follow through and continued gaslighting me, lying, and emotionally manipulating me.

In 2024, Sunny relisted Rocket, despite promising to notify me if she ever did. (She never notified me) She pressured me to give up two previous Kyberr designs that I never wanted to give up as I explained to her it remined me of the trauma of the situation, and I did not want her to have any additional Kyberr designs as they are extremely similar (Kyriko and Astral Comet), Sunny was claiming she was about to be homeless and had higher offers on the table ($1,500, $2,000). Feeling obligated, I paid $1,000 USD along with additional art and OCs, as well as previous Kyberr designs that I did not want to give up (Kyriko and Astral Comet), in exchange for Rocket and a promise of VRChat avatars, which I never received. Later, Sunny spent large sums on other OCs and art, contradicting her earlier claims of financial hardship. She also failed to keep her promise to keep the designs private. When I voiced my discomfort, things escalated and left me feeling scammed.

Sunny misrepresented the sale of Rocket, promising VRChat avatars, advertising 2–3 avatars would be included with the purchase, but after paying $1,000 USD and additional assets, she revealed that the avatar files were deleted. Instead of delivering the promised avatars, she suggested cloning them, which I refused due to concerns about unauthorized use. After months of delays, she only delivered one incomplete avatar after I casually mentioned small claims court. The avatar was broken, and despite efforts to fix it, it remained unsatisfactory. Sunny manipulated the situation by misrepresenting facts to her partners and falsely claimed I was harassing her. I was completely scammed out of that, $1000 USD.

Sunny has been spreading false accusations about the VRChat avatar situation. She claimed to have spent over $200 on a custom avatar for me, but screenshots show she only spent $100. She falsely accused me of harassment, saying I threatened legal action, but I only mentioned small claims court in passing. Despite being patient and understanding for months, Sunny lied about me on multiple fronts, including accusing me of personality theft and slandering me to others. After updating my Terms of Service (T.O.S.) on commercial use, Sunny posted a PNGTuber avatar using my design for non-profit streaming, which violated my rules. She manipulated screenshots, lied about agreeing to my T.O.S., and tried to justify her actions. I have the receipts proving the truth, while she relies on distorted facts and her word.

EVEN SHORTER TL;DR:

Sunny pressured me into selling my truesona, Kyberr, despite knowing its deep sentimental value. Under strict conditions, I reluctantly agreed, but she violated our agreement by copying Kyberr's identity into her new character, Rocket. She also restored my personal info on another old sona, Shachi, against my and a coder's TOS. This caused me years of emotional distress, leading to an art hiatus.

After repurchasing Kyberr, I later reconnected with Sunny in 2022, but she continued to gaslight and manipulate me. In 2024, she relisted Rocket without notifying me, then pressured me into paying $1,000+ for it, claiming financial hardship—only to later spend large sums on OCs. She also failed to deliver promised VRChat avatars, ultimately scamming me.

Sunny spread false accusations, misrepresented the VRChat sale, and violated my updated TOS by using my design for streaming. She twisted facts, manipulated screenshots, and slandered me while I have receipts proving the truth.

Final Thoughts

I strongly urge anyone engaging in business with Sunny to proceed with caution and ensure that all agreements are well-documented.
I strongly urge anyone developing a friendship with Sunny to proceed with caution and be aware of this individual's

KYBERR:
To ensure full transparency regarding our current circumstances and remaining obligations: I currently owe Sunny a commissioned custom design, which has been completed, though she is still considering potential revisions. Additionally, I owe her a scene art piece that is halfway finished.

The obligation for the scene art piece stems from a 2021 transaction in which she purchased a $70~ design that included a retextured VRC avatar. The files were never sent due to the tense circumstances at the time. They were not upheld from her purposefully, but it naturally did not happen. Following a falling out, Sunny distanced herself and disappeared from all her social media accounts, making it clear she did not want to be contacted. While she never requested the files, I acknowledge that I should have reached out to her regardless. She has since stated that she no longer wants the avatar, and we agreed to fulfill the transaction through artwork instead.

I have now contacted her to confirm whether she would like to proceed with receiving the owed artwork. Although she has breached my terms, I am upholding my integrity as an artist and designer by offering to complete and deliver what is owed if she wishes to receive it.

I have set a deadline of March 31, 2025, for her to decide. If she chooses to proceed, I will complete and deliver the artwork. If she opts to void the owed work, I will provide her with the existing files as they are, but I will not complete them. Should she fail to respond by March 31, I will consider the obligation void and will send over all the files in their current state.

This provides her with 18 days (Message sent March 13, 2025) to make a decision regarding the completed artwork. Her partners have advised her to forgo the artwork, but I remain willing to fulfill the obligation if she confirms her decision by the deadline.

Although I have IP-blocked her on Toyhouse, I am maintaining open communication with her via Discord and will continue to do so until she either responds with a decision or the deadline passes without a response. As of March 13, 2025, at 8:58 PM PST, she has not yet provided a decision, though she has been active on Discord.

This user love bombed me out of the design named "Crayons", called me a p3d0 when I was a minor being gr00med, started being nasty and pushy when she claimed "I'm tired of being a doormat to everyone, so I'm no longer going to be one" and then became overly toxic and used me for a lot of my designs/art. She claimed nasty things about my friends, used me for free art/ocs, and constantly was nasty about me behind my back. OH AND! She claimed homelessness not even a few weeks after I had become homeless, claiming she and her gf "Cookie" had to get jobs doing "Door Dash" because her mom suddenly lost her job (Or she got sick, I don't recall the actual reason)

This person and her friends are shady AF. One buys AI designed adopts with real money to "rehab them" while doing trades or recolored adopts for high value OCs or scamming people into money for lemonade before claiming to be "Going homeless". I actually got shown this recently and CottonCandy is on my DNI.
